RATE FALLS 3 CENTS AS PITS OPEN IN CHICAGO

THE chief value of the eclipse was to make people think. A few freaks, to be sure, were added by the unwonted exercise of the small wits they had; but on more millions than ever saw a like phenomenon before it must have served as a memorable mental stimulus.

Most of the simple astronomical facts—that the moon goes around the earth and the earth around the sun—but we do not stop to realize them; they are not the conscious background of our daily thought. But when the thing happens dramatically, before our very eyes, there is no escaping the realization. For an hour, the cosmic perspective is a reality.

The astronomers got more than that. They added a few facts to the slowly accumulating sum of human knowledge. The millions got the thrill of a momentary mental expansion. But even that, multiplied by millions, is a boon to humanity.

Once more, President Coolidge appeals for American membership in the world court—so far as this congress is concerned, with absolutely no hope of response.

Which raises another and even nearer question. How representative are our "representative institutions"? The people are with the president—or else all our means of expressing their will are false. Both party platforms declared for the court, and all the members of congress were elected on those platforms.

Most of them personally agree. Four-fifths of the senate, and the majority even of the stacked congress on foreign relations, favor the court.

On one side, then, are the people, their parties, their representatives and their government. On the other side is a handful of ruthless irreconcilables, entrenched in the senate. And, so far, the irreconcilables win! How representative are institutions in which that is possible?

Patriotism, the Open Sesame

WHY is patriotism the most commanding emotion? Because it is the only one which combines selfishness and unselfishness. To demand things "for my country" gives the heart a great and noble surge. And when those things are exactly what we want for ourselves, to benefit our business, to lower our taxes, or to help us get the better of our neighbors, the altruistic urge finds no impediment.

When the political crook says to one of us individually "vote for me, and I will get you a job, or slip your firm a concession," we may yield, but we feel shame-faced about it. When he offers the same thing to us collectively, for a community, state or national interest, we respond with pride and the thrill of having done something noble.

But here is the real test. When the candidate proposes something that will help the community, but will hurt your own business, do you respond with equal enthusiasm? If so, you are a true patriot.

Why Stop At Brookhart?

IF the Iowa "regular" organization wants Brookhart ejected from the senate because he "deceived" the people, they may find it hard to stop with Brookhart. If every candidate were to be ejected whose opponents thought he "deceived" the people, there would be few office-holders left.

What about these "regulars" themselves, who, in the name of orthodox republicanism, all voted the democratic ticket?

Brookhart at least made no pretense of being a "good" republican. On the contrary, he defiantly proclaimed himself a bad one. The majority of the republicans, at the republican primary, openly preferred a bad republican to a good one, on that express ground.

The majority of the voters, at this general election, also either preferred their republican bad, being rather proud of their own badness of the same sort, or they did not care whether his republicanism was bad or good. The only refuge for these "regulars" is to convince the majority of Iowa republicans that good republicanism is better than bad.

Germany and Bloc System

GERMANY is threatened with a third election within one year. The present government can scarcely survive until May 4, the anniversary of the first election.

And it is not the fault of the people. They have voted right three times, and will doubtless do so again. But it does no good, under a system of election which does not produce a government in accordance with the people's vote—or, for that matter, coherently in accordance with anything.

American idealists have put forward many attractive theoretical arguments for the bloc system and proportional representation. Germany's tribulations are an object lesson on how they work in practice.

Physician Is Free While Wheels of Justice Grind Slowly

HART UNCHANGED IN WARRANT ATTITUDE

Deputy District Attorney Writes Letter Asking Trial of Case

WHILE criminal proceedings against Dr. Everett S. Boice, physician-mayor of La Habra, marked time today, it was learned from reliable sources that federal authorities are investigating the doctor's alleged dealings in liquor prescriptions.

Meanwhile Justice H. E. Hart, of La Habra, who refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of Dr. Boice after Deputy Constable J. T. Bradford had sworn to a complaint charging violation of the Wright act, had not moved from his attitude today. A letter from the district attorney's office addressed to Justice Hart, was stated today, was pointed out that the most likely recourse of Bradford, or others who desired to press the charges, would be an application to the superior court for a writ of mandamus against the Justice.

From sources apparently authoritative, it was stated today that federal operatives are at work in La Habra, probing the charges against Dr. Boice. This gave rise to speculation as to the possibility of action in the federal courts.

Here is Letter.

In his letter to Justice Hart, Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moyley set forth the reasons for issuing the Boice complaint, and expressed the view that the complaint should be heard. The letter follows:

"Judge Hart:

"Having talked to some of the persons concerning complaint that was brought to you yesterday, charging Dr. Boice with a violation of the prohibition act, and that Dr. Boice is a physician, and that the prohibition act, in section 7 of the national prohibition act, authorizing the doctor, who has a permit to give prescriptions prescribed for the use of liquor, to prescribe for the persons needing same for medical purposes. If it could be prescribed by Dr. Boice, it could be prescribed by anyone who has a permit to use same under that act. If the prescription was for any other purpose, then it must be for beverage purposes, and that is the reason that the complaint was drawn in that manner.

"We are inclined to believe, after further consideration, and after having conversations with the defendant and others who know the facts, that this complaint should be filed and the matter should be tried out. If Dr. Boice is not guilty, then I think it would be best for him that you say so by your judgment, and on the other hand if the evidence shows beyond a reasonable doubt he is, the reverse ought to be true.

"Very truly yours,

"C. N. MOZLEY,

"Chief Deputy District Attorney"

Picket Palace In Stokers' Strike

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The "freeze out" strike of engineers and fire stokers in the government's employ continued today, strikers picketing Buckingham Palace and Whitehall. At noon they offered to return if the lamp shade cleaner whose failure to pay union dues caused their walkout, was discharged. They agreed to reinstate the cleaner in the union.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Gulf Oil company, said to be a strong organization financially, has entered into competition with other large companies in securing leases south of Santa Ana, it became known here today, following the visit here yesterday of men representing the company.

It was said the company is confining its efforts mostly to a section immediately adjacent to the sugar mill of the Santa Ana Sugar company, on Dyer road.

According to unconfirmed reports this company is offering leases on the basis of $2.50 a month cash rental and one-sixth royalty on oil developed, the lease operating for a period of three years.

It is known that the representatives have been attempting to negotiate for the Pollard property, in the vicinity of the intersection of Dyer road and Newport boulevard to Tustin.

James G. Levy, who is said to be vice president of the Gulf Oil company, was in the city yesterday. Parties who talked with him, however, were uncertain as to his identity as vice president of the organization.

James Irvine jr. denied that there is foundation for the rumor that the Irvine company has given to the Santa Fe Oil company a lease on 1000 acres in the Paulino district.

Whether speculators have entered the prospective fields at Greenville, Dyer and Paulino was a question that was being discussed today by property owners. Many of the men attempting to secure leases, it was said, have refused to reveal whether they were taking leases for themselves, with a view to selling them, or to give the names of companies they represented, if they represented oil companies.

CALIF. SENATORS ATTACK BANK LAW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Elimination of all sections of the Pepper-McFadden banking bill amending the present law as to restrictions held by National banks may be discounted was temporarily agreed to today by the senate banking committee.

This leaves the principal point of controversy over the bill centering around branch banking restrictions. These provisions met a renewed attack by a delegation of California bankers headed by John S. Drum, president of the Mercantile Trust company of San Francisco, and Edward Elliott, vice-president of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank.

Both Drum and Elliott told the committee that enactment of the bill would work irreparable damage to the banking system of California. Drum said he believed California members of the federal reserve system would be forced to withdraw if the bill becomes a law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The "glorified American country girl" was honored here today.

Miss Vada Watson, 17, "the Kansas Wheat Girl," who was selected from all the girls in Kansas for her beauty and ability around the farm, was presented to President Coolidge and feted by all Kansans in the national capital. As part of the ceremony she presented him with a sack of the wheat which President Harding harvested when in Kansas in 1923.

"I take it that Kansas not only grows the best looking wheat in the world," said the President, smiling, "but also the best looking girls."

POLICE SEEK KIDNAPERS OF OKLAHOMA GIRL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 29.—Scores of police and detectives were searching for the two kidnapers of Mary Ellen Mellon, 20, step-daughter of R. B. Ballburton, wealthy Oklahoma City merchant.

Miss Mellon was bound and gagged shortly after midnight by two men believed by police to have been burglars, and carried from her home. She was found an hour later by W. D. Long, hospital guard, lying on the street under a street light.

Miss Mellon said she was aroused by a noise in their home and went downstairs to investigate. Two men seized her, tied and gagged her.

Her parents, aroused by a scream, ran downstairs but Miss Mellon had been carried away by her abductors.

"They placed me in the back seat of an automobile but I must have fainted after that," the young woman said.

That Miss Mellon was kidnapped by burglars in order to aid them in getting away was the belief of police today.

Diphtheria Grips City In Alaska

ATOME, Alaska, Jan. 29.—Four persons have died and several others have been stricken with diphtheria in an outbreak of the disease here.

The outbreak has not reached the "epidemic" stage, the only serious feature so far being the lack of antitoxin, now being rushed by dog sleds from Nenana.

The entire city has been under a light quarantine for several days. Public gatherings are prohibited but stores so far are remaining open and business is much as usual.

Leonard Seppala, winner of the all Alaskan sweepstakes two years ago, left Nome Tuesday with twenty Siberian racing dogs and a fast sledge to establish relays to speed up the delivery of 300,000 units of antitoxin supplied by the government hospital at Anchorage.

Heavy Fog Delays Traffic In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Heavy fog hanging over San Francisco today all but tied up bay ferries and traffic in city streets.

In parts of the city lights in store windows were only barely visible from the middle of the street, so dense was the fog.

Ferries proceeded under a bed-lam of whistles at slow speed and on half schedule. Hundreds of commuters were late to work as a result.

Whether a signature to a $3500 note is genuine or a forged formed the crux of a superior court trial today, when Forrest F. Sullivan, president of the Appleby Motor company, denied signing the note in question.

Bank officials from several cities in the county were assembled in Judge Z. B. West's court where the suit brought by the National Bank of Orange against Harry B. Zabel and Sullivan, to recover on the note, was being heard. Several of the bankers were called on to scrutinize the signature on the note, compare it with an admitted signature of Sullivan and then express an opinion.

E. A. Alsop, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Anaheim, declared his belief that the signature on the note was genuine. He was on the witness stand for some time, undergoing cross-examination by Attorney Roger Dutton, representing Sullivan.

Other bank officials summoned to court were J. B. Porter, of Orange, Herbert A. Hawley, cashier of the Southern County bank, Anaheim, and Harry L. Hansen, of the First National bank of Santa Ana.

Sullivan was the only defendant to appear and contest the action. Zabel, it is reported, is no longer in this section.

Attorney H. L. Dearing, of Orange, represented the plaintiff in the case.

EIGHT DEATHS IN EAST FROM COLD

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Eight deaths, directly or indirectly attributed to the cold wave, have been reported in the metropolitan area during the past 24 hours.

Fires, accidents and exposures were responsible for these fatalities and for the sending of scores of other victims to hospitals.

The severe weather that brought death and suffering to New York prevailed generally throughout the east and middle west. The cold wave is broken for the present, however, according to the weather man, who predicts higher temperatures for today.

G. O. P. Insurgents Read from Party

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—La Follette Progressives in the House were read out of the Republican party today.

Dispatching a call for a party caucus February 17, Chairman Wood, Indiana, of the caucus, withheld invitations to the Wisconsin delegation and Representatives Keller, Minnesota; Sinclair, North Dakota, and Laguardia, New York.

A speaker, floor leader and officers in the next house will be selected at the meeting.

Attempts to Slay Hungarian Regent

BUDAPEST, Jan. 29.—An attempt was made to assassinate Admiral Horthy, Hungarian regent, at a country railway station. A man approached the regent's train and fired upon the admiral with a revolver, missed and escaped.

HUDSON RIVER FREEZES

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—For the fourth time in 30 years the Hudson river is frozen over at its widest point between Nyack and Tarrytown.

All about her the city teemed with life. Elevated trains roared overhead. Vehicles splashed through the snow sodden street. Then New York swallowed up Leginska so completely that the most meticulous search conducted by friends, detectives and policemen for three days has failed to produce a single tangible clue, the well-known artist and orchestra leader, whose picture had that very day been blazoned in newspaper advertisements—vanished.

RED BLUFF MAN IS ACCUSED IN SLAYING CASE

RED BLUFF, Calif., Jan. 29.—Clarence Flanagan, retired United States army captain and former San Francisco dentist, was arrested here today and charged with the murder of his brother John, wealthy sheep man of the Corning section.

Frank Flanagan, a third brother, found the body of John on the ranch owned by Clarence and John covered with a pile of sacks. Several knife wounds were found in his back.

The murder is believed to have been committed Tuesday night. Clarence Flanagan is said to have acted peculiar for some time and his brothers had planned to have him examined for his sanity.

GAS FUMES KILL SIX IN SCRANTON

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 29.—Gas fumes early today wiped out a family of six in West Scranton.

The dead:

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Horishi and four children.

It has not been determined what caused the home of the victims to be flooded by the poisonous fumes. Police suspect that a mine cave resulted in the bursting of a gas main and opened the earth in such a manner that the gas easily found its way into the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fry and two children residing across the street from the Horishi home narrowly escaped being wiped out by the gas.

SERVANTS SHARE ESTATE

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 29.—Five servants will share $107,500 through the will of the late Helen Parish, their mistress. Mrs. Parish also left thousands of dollars in personal property to these employees.

CHILD LABOR ACT FAVORED ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Oregon and Nevada today stood as the chief Pacific coast states where the child labor issue is still alive.

Arizona, California and New Mexico have ratified the amendment and Washington now stands definitely against ratification. The Washington senate rejected the child labor amendment while the house late yesterday postponed indefinitely action on a proposal to submit the question to a popular referendum.

The measure previously had passed the Arizona assembly and late yesterday the senate passed it, as had been expected. The child labor amendment to the federal constitution was ratified late yesterday by the New Mexico house, 40 to 8. The senate in that state has not acted upon the proposal.

WHEAT BOOM HITS ENGLAND, EUROPE

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Chicago wheat market rules the world and fixes prices for all other wheat. Sir William Nichols, Great Britain's flour king, told the United Press today:

"Whatever happens we must follow the United States. We cannot help ourselves."

The wheat boom in the United States had an immediate repercussion in England and throughout Europe and echoes of it were heard in Russia. It is believed bread soon will cost a shilling a loaf.

The price of flour here promptly advanced on a shilling a sack. English bakers decided this afternoon to advance the price of a four-pound loaf of bread one penny to eleven pence on Monday.

SEEK SLAYERS IN S. F. COURT BREAK

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Theodore Eggers, brother of Uriel and Milo Eggers, accused British liquor pirates, and another member of their band are believed by police and federal agents today to have been the two men whose capture in the federal building yesterday resulted in the killing of Uriel and the kidnapping of Milo.

Mrs. Milo Eggers and Mrs. Erna Brown, sisters of the Eggers, were questioned by detectives today and admitted that they had come here from Canada to aid their brothers' defense but clinging to their story that enemies of the brothers were responsible for the raid.

It was learned today that a telegram was sent from San Francisco to Vancouver to a man of the Eggers family several days ago by a woman in San Francisco. Contents of this telegram are being kept secret while the sender is sought. Efforts are also being made to learn where and by whom the rubber bulb from which ammonia was squirted into the face of Deputy United States Marshal Jack Donnelly, who was guarding the men, was obtained.

COLD BANK FAILS TO OPEN DOORS

DENVER, Jan. 29.—The Italian-American bank of Denver failed to open for business today. It was said that officers of the institution had asked that the state bank commissioner take over the bank's affairs.

A three-day run caused by rumors regarding the bank's stability was given as the cause of the closing.

The bank had a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $40,000.

Hold U. S. Troops Ready to Protect Yanks In China

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The United States government is holding troops ready in the Philippine islands to rush, if necessary, to Shanghai, where the situation has developed to serious proportions within the last 24 hours, endangering American lives and property.

All available American naval vessels and marines in the vicinity have been despatched to Shanghai. The citizens volunteer corps of the foreign settlement of Shanghai has been fully mobilized to preserve order. American, British and other foreign battalions are patrolling the harbor.

Frantic Outburst of Selling Drives Grain to $2.01 Bushel

MANY NEW FORTUNES VANISH IN MID-AIR

Repercussion In England Runs Up Price of Bread, Flour Takes Jump

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—May wheat dropped three cents in the first few moments of trading today from yesterday's close of $2.05 a bushel. The initial opening today was at $2.03 and an outburst of selling drove it down another cent.

May wheat fell off to $2.01 at noon, a reduction of four cents from last night's close. Fortunes won yesterday were in many cases nearly wiped out. Small traders were reported to have profited heavily. Dr. J. W. T. Duval, head of the Chicago office of the Grain Futures administration, denied the existence of a corner.

FLOUR PRICE GOES UP IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Flour sold the highest in 40 years in San Francisco today and higher prices for bread have been predicted by bakers.

The 45-pound sack of flour sold today for $3.33 retail and $1.80 for the 196 pound barrel in the mill, an increase of $1 over the price since the middle of last June.

Because Walter McClain, 19, acted in an alleged suspicious manner when questioned by officers at 1:40 a. m. today, he was locked up in the county jail. McClain told officers he walked here from Los Angeles and was on his way to San Diego, looking for work. He said it was necessary for him to walk as he was broke, but police found a roll of bills in his pockets and several letters which were addressed to him at Long Beach.

Mrs. M. F. Heathman, 802 Bush street, reported to police yesterday that while she was away from home Tuesday night a number of persons held a "party" on her front lawn, as was evidenced by a number of Jamaica ginger bottles found there yesterday. She said neighbors were bothered by the noise of the revellers. Mrs. Heathman reported that her lawn had been used for nocturnal gatherings.

EXPECT 400 TO BE AT 'U' SITE MEET FRIDAY

Reservations have been made by 400 persons for the "university site" meeting to be held at the Masonic temple, in Fullerton, tomorrow, at 6:30 p. m. it was announced today by George Raymer, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce.

The principal speakers will be Harry H. Merrick, president of the Greater Los Angeles association, S. C. Hartman, assemblyman from Orange county, and Chester Cline, state senator from this district.

Fullerton has offered a site of 1000 acres for the new location of the southern branch of the University of California, and the meeting will be featured by discussions on the project.

In a signed article appearing in a Los Angeles morning paper today, James R. Martin, secretary of the committee of Los Angeles men appointed by President W. W. Campbell of the university to act in an advisory capacity to the board of regents in the selection of a site, declares that the site for the branch must be in or near the residence section of Los Angeles.

Pointing out that there are more than 5000 students attending the branch, the writer says that 85 per cent of the students live in the residence section of Los Angeles. "If a site remote from Los Angeles were selected, the purpose of establishing the university here (Los Angeles) would be negated; in fact, there would then be no reason for the establishment in the south of a division of this great university because a student could attend the university at Berkeley practically as cheaply as at some other point remote from Los Angeles," Martin says in his article.

Stressing R. R. Fares
"Computing from the standpoint of extra railroad fare, in the mass it would run up to thousands of dollars sheer loss each week, and to each individual student it would represent far more each semester than the actual tuition cost of the average college," the secretary says in attempting to make a point against location of the branch outside of Los Angeles.

Raymer has announced that railroads have assured a round trip fare from Los Angeles to Fullerton of less than 30 cents, and asserts that this would not be burdensome on students.

"The southern branch is supposed to serve all of Southern California, and Fullerton is nearer the center of the district than is Los Angeles," Raymer said. "Location of the branch at some point east or south of Los Angeles would be more advantageous to students attending from other points in the southland. We have the ideal site here and it is my confident opinion that the board of regents will recognize this fact when the members have inspected all of the sites offered."

Relative "U" Areas
Martin says that there is a great deal of misunderstanding as to the acreage necessary for a site. He points out the campus areas of some of the major universities, as follows: Yale, 120 acres, plus 125 for sports; University of Pennsylvania, 54 acres, 55 acres for sports; Princeton, 120 acres, 57 acres for sports; Columbia, 52 acres, 28 acres for sports; Wisconsin, 100 acres, 42 acres for sports, and Chicago, 100 acres, 12 acres for sports.

Concluding, Martin says that "the present campus of the southern branch has 25 acres, but the regents asked the site committee to secure a campus large enough to take care of future growth, and, accordingly, they stipulated that a campus of not less than 200 acres be secured."

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
 Many a man is broken by what looks to him and to his fellows like a complete failure when his life is gone. Look deeper and you will discover that he has accomplished all the good things he planned and tried to do for his family and the world around him. Sorrow opens your eyes in a similar way and you realize that you have given so much of yourself to the one who is now in Paradise.

SIXTON—Alberta E. Sexton, wife of Fred Sexton of 420 Lemon street, Anaheim, passed away January 28th at the age of 64 years. Services will be held from the Winfield Mission home, Friday, January 30th at 10:30 a. m. with the Rev. E. G. Bulgin of Portland, Ore., officiating.

Mrs. Sexton was the mother of Fredelle A. Young of Torrance and Mr. Post of Santa Ana.

FUNERAL NOTICE
 Funeral services for Mrs. Christiane Anderson have been postponed awaiting arrival of relatives from the East. Notice of funeral will be announced later by Smith and Tuttle.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to express our sincere thanks for the kind sympathy and beautiful floral offerings at the death of our beloved father and grandfather, Lorenzo R. Kiser.

MUST FACE COURT, MORRISON DECREES

R. Benjamin of 704 West Thirtieth street, Los Angeles, said to be a prominent business man, will have to face Justice Kenneth Morrison and any check he may send down here in payment for his alleged speeding at 50 miles an hour, will be returned, the court decreed today.

Justice Morrison received a letter from the Los Angeles Automobile association yesterday, asking the amount of their member's fine, and also asking leniency for him.

Benjamin was arrested by "Pop" Warner, captain of the state police several days ago on a charge of making 50 miles an hour along the Irvine road, and also with "tinting in." Persons so charged during the past several months have been receiving jail sentences. "He will have to come down here and face the court just like all the others who receive the pink tickets," Justice Morrison said today. Benjamin was told to be here at 10 a. m. next Wednesday.

ELECT PRESIDENT FOR SCHOOL CLUB

The winners of the puzzle contest were acknowledged by club members to have the largest vocabularies among the literary group. As prizes Miss Tarrar received a copy of the book by John Galsworthy entitled "The White Monkey." Jesse was given "The Needle's Eye" by Arthur Train.

DALLAS MAYOR WELCOMES VISITING REALTORS IN TRUE SOUTHERN FASHION

Considered a masterpiece in diction, at the request of local realtors, The Register today reprints the proclamation issued by L. Blaylock, mayor of Dallas, to realtors assembled there for the mid-winter convention of the National association of Realty boards, the copy having been brought here by J. Wiley Harris, who was a delegate from the Sanat Ana Board of Realtors. It follows:

"Through the authority vested in me by the sovereign voters of the metropolis of Dallas, I, Louis Blaylock, mayor of the city of Dallas, do hereby ordain, decree and proclaim that the period of January 13 to 16 shall be dedicated, set aside, consecrated and devoted to the special purpose of entertaining the visiting realtors in Dallas.

"Let our glorious winter sun with effulgent splendor shine upon these visitors and beneath to them a portion of the warmth rampant for them in our hearts. Let the gentle January breezes caress them with a tenderness equalled only by our high regard for their lofty ideals. Let the earth beneath their feet withstand their tread as firmly as the foundation upon which our joyousness at their coming rests.

"It is my explicit order that the Dallas spirit shall be manifest throughout the designated period, and that it shall be reflected in tone of voice, breadth of smile, heartiness of handclasp and genuineness of hospitality. Yea, even the birds in the trees shall catch the spirit of the chant of happiness and echo it back as a balm to the ears and an elixir to the soul of our distinguished guests. Blooming flowers are hereby ordered to shed their most fragrant perfumes, and growing plants to nod in hearty and enthusiastic cooperation.

"I hereby order that the constituted forces of law-enforcement see to it that this proclamation is carried out to the letter."

2 Oil Workers Hurt In Crash

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—George Heitz, 207 Ninth street, an employee of the Associated Oil company, suffered the fracture of his right collar bone and a number of ribs of his right side, when his car collided early this morning at Main and Clay streets, with a machine driven by T. J. Bycroft, 314 Sixth street, employee of the Jamison Oil company.

The latter escaped injury. John Proskland, 212 Twelfth street, Huntington Beach, who was with Heitz, received numerous bruises and cuts about the face and body.

SCHOOLS HERE ARE CROWDED BY NEWCOMERS

With a steady influx of tourists from the north and middle west states, many of them home-seekers, the local schools are being crowded and as a result the city school authorities are facing the problem of congestion, it was learned today at the board of education offices.

As a temporary measure toward relief, the boundary lines between McKinley and Lowell schools have been changed. It was announced today by City Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston. All pupils living on the north side of Crestnut street and cross streets between Chestnut and Pine, and those living on the south side of Pine street, will be transferred to the McKinley school to relieve the congestion, it was announced.

Lincoln school is already taxed to capacity, the superintendent explained. To provide necessary class room facilities, it has been necessary to requisition the library rooms both at Lincoln and Jefferson schools for study classes.

A crowded condition is reported at Roosevelt school, it was added, and this state of affairs obtains at most schools in the city.

PLACE BIG ORDER WITH LOCAL FIRM

A. T. Riley, manager of the Schluter-Maytag stores in Orange county, returned yesterday from a sales conference in Los Angeles, which was attended by the company's branch managers.

"The business record we made in Orange county during the past year, was so impressive that it won for us the job of selling ten carloads of Maytag washers during the current year," Riley said this morning.

"The Schluter company, after our meeting placed an order for 225 carloads of washing machines for distribution throughout its territory. This is the largest single order ever given. Thirty-two carloads were specified for March delivery."

The average size hen egg weighs about 24 ounces to the dozen.

QUICK RELIEF FOR COUGHS AND COLDS AFTER THE FIRST DOSE
 Go to your druggist today. Get a bottle of Rostine's Eucalint. It will clear the bronchial passages, loosen up congestion and bring that pleasant relief as only Eucalint can do when properly combined as in Eucalint. Give Eucalint to the children as it contains no narcotics, chloroform, alcohol or habit forming drugs. For Spasmodic Croup and Whooping Cough it has no equal.—Adv.

Wee Folk Enjoy Visit To Fairyland at Birthday Party

'Twas a pretty fairy party given for a dainty fairy maid when small Maureen Lenore McClintock yesterday afternoon greeted a group of her neighborhood play-mates in honor of her fourth birthday.

The charming affair, planned by Maureen's mother, Mrs. Clarence McClintock, was given at the lovely suburban home at Fairview. When the small folk arrived, each one was presented with a bubble outfit to be used to gain admittance to the fairy ring. Once within the charmed circle, they sought fairy crowns of silver which had yet to be adorned with silver stars.

A hunt for the stars was followed by the children placing them on their crowns, the prettiest of all the crowns, to decide which should be the wand fairy. This was little Caroline Borchard whose arrangement of the stars won her the privilege of sitting in the little throne chair with her wand and superintending the fairy ball.

As the music was played for the gay dance, the youngsters entered into the merriment, and when the music suddenly stopped, all scrambled for the fairy package dropped by Caroline. Each package contained a pretty favor and the music continued, to stop suddenly each time, until each child had a pretty gift direct from fairyland. Then came the last package of all, and the fairies' gift proved to be for Maureen Lenore who exclaimed with joy over the pretty things her playmates gave her with the aid of the fairy wand.

Mrs. McClintock then gathered the happy group together that they might enjoy "star dust and early morning dew" which to older eyes who had almost forgotten what fairyland looked like, much resembled ice cream and birthday cake. Sharing the happy day with Maureen was her small brother, Don, Caroline Borchard and her brother, Charles Borchard, Jr., Ruth Ann Segerstrom and her brother, Henry Segerstrom and Bobby Meyer. Fully as happy were the "grown-ups" who were bidden to fairyland as well and who were Mrs. McClintock, Mrs. Charles Borchard, Mrs. Irving Meyer and Mrs. Anton Segerstrom.

Farewell Party For Departing Family

A very delightful evening was enjoyed last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sandon on West Third street, when they gave a card party in farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hoffman.

Pinocle was played during the evening and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hoffman and Mr. Dohmer, consolation going to Mrs. Dohmer and Sam Sandon. Late in the evening a delectable collation of chicken pates, sandwiches, olives, cake and coffee was served.

Those enjoying the occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Sandon were Mr. and Mrs. John Hey, Mr. and Mrs. John Dohmer, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sandon, Miss Tena Hoffman and Ray Dickinson, and the honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are leaving tomorrow over the Santa Fe for Remsen, Ia., where they will make their home, after having resided in Santa Ana for more than two years. Their many friends here regret to see them leave, but wish them success in their new home.

JOY AND FRIENDSHIP GLOW FROM S. A. COUNTRY CLUB

(By Olive Lopez)

When people sit down at table and break bread together, it signifies that friendship is entwined about their hearts, and that brotherly love is master in the home.

A great family of 400 sat down at long tables last evening in the beautiful new home of the Santa Ana Country club. They were the real "400", representing the best of the citizenry of Santa Ana and the vicinity—the members of the Country club, their wives, daughters and sweethearts.

It was a splendid way to christen the new clubhouse, this big dinner, the joy and comradeship of which warmed the cockles of the heart and tickled the palate. The arrangements had been made in capable hands and the large company was quickly and capably served, turkey being the piece de resistance, accompanied with all of its appetizing accessories.

The long tables were adorned at intervals with bowls of dainty pink sweet peas and ferns and streamers of fern fronds tracing their way between. The huge fireplace was banked high with potted plants and the Stars and Stripes occupied the place of honor.

Marking an invitation from the ordinary speech-making course of every dinner, and one which seemed to be welcomed, judging from the applause which greeted the announcement of the board of directors of the Santa Ana Country club, that there would be no speeches. Mr. Twist then introduced the directors and told what part they had taken in the building of the new home and the laying out of the spacious grounds. Standing as their names were announced, the directors were E. S. Gilbert, George B. Shattuck, Edward McWilliams, John L. Wheeler, W. A. Huff, Lew H. Wallace, E. T. Mateer, J. Fred Parsons, D. Eymann Huff and C. G. Downie.

D. Eymann Huff was chairman of the music committee for the evening, the program opening with a waltz concerto, his own composition, beautifully interpreted by Earl Fraser, well-known and popular Santa Ana pianist. Mme. Manuela V. Budrow, Spanish prima donna soprano, received a hearty ovation at the conclusion of her lovely solo, "The Enchantress," by Arditi, and responded with a charming little encore, the words of which were read by Mr. Huff, who said they were Byron's. "There is Music Everywhere." The lilting and sweet melody was composed by Mme. Budrow. Mr. Fraser added to the pleasure of the numbers by his accompaniments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Roller, the manager and hostess at the new club house, and who have already made themselves with the members, were introduced, and during the evening were here, there and everywhere to see that the guests were made happy and comfortable. Many lovely baskets filled with magnificent carnations, roses and peach blossoms, announcing that spring has come, were placed in the various rooms, harmonizing with the handsome drapery, soft lights and cozy furnishings of the place. The floral offerings were the gifts of various firms and individuals, wishing the club every joy in the possession of its elegant new home.

The ladies were especially delighted with the dressing rooms, where colored maids checked wraps, and the upstairs parlor is a dream of beauty.

After the dinner tables had been removed, dancing was enjoyed upon the beautiful hardwood floor of the spacious dining room. Grigby's orchestra furnishing the excellent music for the lovers of Terpsichore. The scene was a charming one, the women in their lovely gowns and the men in evening attire.

At an interval in the dancing, the Santa Ana quartette, composed of Raymond R. Miles, Dr. J. L. Collins, Robert Brown and Maurice Phillips, played two fine numbers, "Jolly Good Fellows" and "Awake, My Soul, the Dawn is Here," by Curran.

As my best wish, added to these of hosts of friends of the members of the new country club, I shall append the words of Edgar A. Guest in his "Lines for a Friend's House":

God bless this house and all within it.

Let no harsh spirit enter in it.

Let none approach who would betray.

None with a bitter word to say.

Shield it from harm and sorrow's sting.

Here let the children's laughter ring.

Grant that these friends from year to year

Shall build their happiest memories here.

God bless this house and those who love it.

Fair be the skies which bend above it.

May never Anger's thoughtless word

Within these sheltering walls be heard.

May all who rest beside this fire

And then depart, glad thoughts inspire.

And make them feel who close the door

Friendship has graced their home once more.

God bless this house and those who keep it.

In the sweet oils of gladness steep it.

Endow these walls with lasting wealth.

The light of love, the glow of health.

The balm of peace, the charm of mirth.

Good friends to sit around the hearth.

And with each nightfall perfect rest.

Here let them live their happiest.

Scots Entertain at Successful Party

Everyone was loud in their praises today of the friendly hospitality extended last night at El Camino hall by the local chapter of Scots and their torch, Lloyd Rouch, when a chicken dinner was presented, followed by an evening of dancing.

The dinner served at 6 o'clock was attended by 150 guests, all of whom enjoyed the culinary skill of the Scots members who planned, prepared and served the delicious menu. As the hour set for dancing drew near, the crowd was increased by the arrival of many more Scots and their guests until over 300 people were present to enjoy dancing. Local members and friends greeted Scots from Los Angeles, Glendale and Long Beach, who motored over to enjoy the evening.

Legion Auxiliary

"It promises to be the liveliest party we have yet given" today declared Mrs. Gene Robinson, president of the American Legion auxiliary, in discussing plans for tonight's card party which the auxiliary is presenting as a benefit for the boys at Camp Keary.

With Mrs. Helene Nelson, chairman of the finance committee and Miss Louise Tubbs, chairman of the entertainment committee, at the head of the affair, the success seems assured according to those who have worked with them so faithfully. Forty tables have been arranged for and to accommodate those who failed to make reservations early, a few extra tables are being held in reserve so late comers may enjoy cards too.

Bridge and 500 will both be played and fascinating prizes have been provided for the winners in each game. Also there has been much attention paid to the detail of refreshments and at the close of the evening's contest, the appetizing dainties provided by the committee, will be served by auxiliary members.

It has been suggested that guests pay particular attention to the fact that 8 o'clock has been named as the hour at which playing would begin.

Ebell Travelers

Roads followed by members of Ebell's First Travel section Monday, February 3, will lead them to a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. William E. Otis, 1330 North Main street, with Mrs. Otis and Mrs. L. J. Carden of Los Angeles will be joint hostesses. Members are asked to notify Mrs. Otis of their intentions of being present at the earliest possible opportunity.

Cards and Dancing At Shrine Club Party

When Orange county Shriners and their wives and sweethearts assemble at the Country club tomorrow night for the much anticipated ball, they will find that the thoughtfulness of the Shrine club president, D. Eymann Huff, and his social committee, has provided entertainment other than dancing for those to whom that amusement offers no particular charm.

For card tables will be arranged in the delightful interior of the clubhouse, and those who prefer the bridge to all the dancing in the world, will find Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert presiding at the tables. It was said today that reservations already made would indicate that at least 400 guests would be present, all confined to Nobles of the Shrine and the members of their parties. The affair will be strictly formal for the Nobles as well as for the feminine members of the party.

Industrious Dames

Wednesday afternoon the Industrious Dames were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. M. Rowland on South Birch street. Since it was Mrs. Herman Smith's birthday the club united in helping celebrate it with birthday wishes and a gift.

The time was spent in fancy work and chatting, also a guessing contest was enjoyed, with Mrs. Effie Hayes capturing the prize. Mrs. Rowland was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Alice Churchill. Mrs. Smith's birthday was further celebrated by the blowing out of the tiny pink candles on the individual birthday cakes, which were a part of the dainty refreshments.

Those enjoying Mrs. Rowland's hospitality were Mesdames Florence Hicks, Effie Hayes, Robert White, Canfield, Wiseman, W. D. Barker, C. W. Leamer, Etchelson Gorton, Smith, Woodhouse, Pickering and one guest, Mrs. Hudson.

Friendly Group Joins In Childhood Games At "Kid" Party

"When we were a couple of kids" chanted a laughing group of girls last night as they shed the dignity of young womanhood and entered into games and merriment of childhood as a farewell event for Miss Gertrude Prichard and Miss Elizabeth Beall, soon to enter nurses' training school.

The happy party was given at the R. W. Beall home at 601 East Third street, with Mrs. Beall and Mrs. Harry Prichard sharing hostess duties. The home was gay with flowers in all the many nooks and corners. The evening was a lively one for each guest was required to give a musical stunt in some form and the result was most entertaining as each carefully costumed "little child" arose to give her song or recitation. After the program, all entered with childish zeal into the fun of pulling taffy.

Those present in addition to the honorees, Miss Beall and Miss Prichard, were Misses Leona Prange, Grace Prichard, Adele Lutz, Dorothy Lutz, Thelma Weide, Frances Knudson, Marjory Edmunds and June Goodwin. Miss Beall and Miss Prichard will enter Seaside hospital at Long Beach, Monday, February 2, for their nurses' training.

Artiste Will Sing At Church Services

Daisy Austin Marsden who delighted her old friends and won scores of new ones with an unusually interesting recital at Ebell club just a week ago, has consented to present a group of songs at Sunday night's church service at the First Methodist church, according to the interesting announcement made today by the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the church.

The recital will be a brief one as Mrs. Marsden's group will consist of but four numbers. It will open the evening services at 7 o'clock.

Music Teachers

Everything is in readiness for an enjoyable as well as profitable evening which the music teachers of Orange county will share tonight at the Arnold Peek home, 1425 North Main street. Every teacher of music in the county is urged to be present and aid in effecting a stronger organization and take steps towards making such an organization, a decided power in musical and civic affairs of the county.

In addition to the business details which will be discussed, the program committee has conspired with the hostess, Mrs. Peek, to offer a program of charm and distinction. For Philip Fronitz, famous pianist and maestro of Los Angeles will bring a pertinent message regarding similar associations in Norway, while musical numbers will be given by Marie Bishop, soprano, and Miss Mabel Krause, pianist. The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Eastern Star

Members of the social club of Santa Ana Chapter, O. E. S. are anticipating a pleasant afternoon at bride tomorrow when they will be entertained by Mrs. Amanda Holmes, 2001 North Broadway. All are asked to assemble in readiness to begin playing at 2 o'clock.

P. E. O.

Chapter A. B.
Members of Chapter A. B. of the P. E. O. will motor to Orange next Monday to enjoy luncheon with Mrs. Mary Newcom at her La Veta avenue home. The affair is scheduled for 1 o'clock and greeting members will be a little group of co-hostesses, Mrs. Mabel Rowland, Mrs. Blanche Strock and Mrs. Grace Jordan who will assist Mrs. Newcom. Those unable to attend are requested to notify Mrs. Newcom at the earliest opportunity.

Chapter D. I.
Mrs. Jessie Crites will be Monday's hostess to members of Chapter D. I. of the P. E. O. at her home, 606 South Parton street. The meeting is scheduled to open at 2 o'clock.

Merry Surprise When Gift and Verses Are Presented

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowe at 1326 Maple avenue was recently the scene of a jolly surprise, when the members of the Pressmen's union of which Mr. Rowe has been president for the past three years, called upon the gentle couple.

The evening hours were passed happily with games of various kinds and later a table was spread with good things to eat brought by the thoughtful guests and served by the ladies.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ashen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Merryman and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Daniell, all of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Quick and family of Anaheim.

Mr. Rowe was presented with a beautiful picture on behalf of the union by George Lutz, who accompanied the gift with the following original verses:
It is out here so far some come in
A picture and frame,
And some come in cars,
But we come here this night
Because we thought it right.
We all feel so happy
So let's make it snappy
For we're going to show
To ex-president Rowe
A picture and frame,
But I don't know the name.
You will kindly accept it
For we all do expect it;
You can hang it up high
Or hang it down low—
It is yours, Brother Rowe.
You may think about eat
But don't get cold feet.
We fell into ditches
So we brought us sandwiches
And coffee and cream
For the fat and the lean.
Let us do our best
To the cake and the rest;
May this gathering and lunch
Long be remembered by the "bunch."

The World's Greatest Remedy
For Acid Stomach, Indigestion, Constipation, Rheumatism and Low Vitality

Supplies the Iron so Necessary for Rich, Red Blood

For ages the Indians have journeyed hundreds of miles across mountain and desert to the Great Volcanic Laboratory at Coso, because they realized the importance of keeping the Liver, Kidneys and Pores of the Skin functioning properly.

Coso Water aids digestion and relieves acid stomach, and those who have only obtained temporary relief from soda and milk of magnesia will find this acid water an actual remedy, as it supplies the proper acid for digestion, destroys the invading bacteria, thus preventing the unnatural fermentation which creates acid gas. The water acts directly on the liver and kidneys, assisting nature in throwing off poison or waste which has been reabsorbed through lack of elimination.

We will gladly refer you to prominent people here in Santa Ana who have been thoroughly relieved of Acid Stomach, Indigestion, even Gastric Ulcer and hemorrhages from the stomach. Hundreds suffering from Rheumatism and Low Vitality who were skeptical one year ago, are well today and cannot say too much for Coso's Home Treatment. If you will drink a full tumbler of Coso Water before meals and upon retiring, you can eat what you like and digest it. Your Liver and Kidneys will function properly for the first time in years.

The accident took place in the 1200 block on South Main street, and was caused when Cock mistook the direction in which the boy was going, according to his report.

The boy was taken to his home on Walnut street where medical attention was given him. The bicycle was badly damaged.

College Singers To Appear Friday H. S. Auditorium

Pomona College Glee club is to make its appearance in Santa Ana with a program of songs and musical selections tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock in the high school auditorium, it was announced by Edward Hummel, who has arranged the engagement.

According to the arrangements, the performance was devised for the regular weekly assembly of the high school student body. The program of the assembly, lasting to 3 o'clock, is to be devoted entirely to the glee club.

For those who will be unable to attend the afternoon program, it has been arranged to have the Pomona Glee club here again Tuesday of next week in an evening performance at the high school at 8 o'clock. At that time a full program is scheduled with solos, instrumental music and readings given in addition to the glee club numbers.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

High lights in the report of Secretary Warren Ashleigh of the Anaheim Y. M. C. A., covering the work of 1924 indicate something of the fine piece of work that has been done there for the boys and girls of the community.

The report shows that 42 Hi-Y meetings have been conducted, 25 Junior Hi-Y meetings, 76 Pioneer Group meetings, and other groups of various sorts, totaling 162 groups meetings, attended by 3,593 persons. Other activities included gymnasium classes, meeting at the high school, tennis tournament, with 52 men and women playing, city basketball league, indoor baseball league, supervised play periods for boys, Girl Reserve training, and many others. Fourteen boys began the Christian life, 23 boys made fresh resolutions for service, seven boys joined the church, and 84 boys took definite forward steps of some sort.

Having raised the largest fund ever secured in Orange for any local philanthropic project, contributed by the largest number of subscribers on record in the community, the Orange Y. M. C. A. campaigners brought to a whirlwind finish Tuesday evening a splendid piece of community work.

The final meeting of the workers, numbering nearly 100 men and women, was held at the Presbyterian church, as a joint session with the Hi-Y club, and enthusiasm was the keynote from start to finish. The reports showed a total of $7500 but the workers were not satisfied with that, and as they sat around the tables, they raised the amount by increasing their own pledges, and by holding an auction of the slab of bacon which had been used as a prize during the campaign. The bacon was sold and resold half a dozen times, the total realized being $132 from this source.

The close of the effort shows $8,125 pledged by 733 individuals. This fund guarantees the continuance of the fine piece of work being done in Orange by the Y.M.C.A. together with the paying off of part of the indebtedness on the building used by the association. The campaign was headed by Leon Whitsell, aided by Frank Henderson and B. E. Garrison. C. F. Morrow is the secretary.

WOMEN DENTISTS HELD BIG NEED

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. — Women have invaded another field of activity heretofore held sacred to men—dentistry—it was revealed here at the annual meeting of the Chicago Dental society.

But women are a bit squamish about pulling teeth and most of that work has been turned over to the male dentists. Approximately 1,000 women are practicing the profession. More than 100 attended the convention.

Dr. Sarah Harris, Chicago, with more than forty years of practice, holds that women make better dentists than men because they have more patience. "Timid persons would rather have an understanding woman work on their teeth than a gruff man," she told the United Press. "Children particularly prefer a woman. Her intuition helps her to know just when the patient is best able to withstand pain. 'Girls go in for the work because they need the money and are inclined toward that sort of thing. But it doesn't hurt their matrimonial prospects."

"LOVE'S WILDERNESS" AT YOST TONIGHT
Hollywood and New York's Broadway make their dramatic strength in "Love's Wilderness," in which Corinne Griffith is starred. The picture is showing at the Yost theater.
Supporting Corinne in this picture are two prominent Broadway players, who were brought to Hollywood to create the leading male roles. They are Holmes Herbert and Ian Keith.
Another stage celebrity in the cast is Maurice Cannon. Cannon was brought over by First National from France, where he was leading juvenile with the Comedie Francaise in Paris.
Playgoers of older memory will recall two other faces in "Love's Wilderness," reminiscent of stage fame of two decades past. They are David Torrence, brother of Ernest, who was leading baritone in "The Geisha" and other comic operas that were all the rage a generation ago, and Emily Fitzroy, as well known in films now as a character actress as she was in the English and American stage twenty years ago.
This picture presents the lovely Corinne in a new dramatic element—totally different in spirit from that of "Black Oxen" and "Lilies of the Field," in which she scored tremendously. It is the story of a young Southern girl who runs away with an adventurer and takes her through scenes in Canada and the South Seas. Robert Z. Leonard directed.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.
The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.
The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup and whooping cough. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

MIX MAKES PICTURE IN MIDST OF FIRE

"Tom Mix is the best foreman and handler of men that I have ever seen," declared Chief U. S. Ranger George W. Sallee, who commanded the fire-fighters that combated the flames which swept over and devastated eight square miles of forests in Sierra county, California, a few weeks ago.

Mix and the men of his company exchanged their services for three days, fighting the fire in return for the privilege of making pictures in the flame-swept zone, the realism of which will be wonderfully revealed in "Teeth," wherein Tom, Tony the horse, and Duke, the dog, are co-starred.

When his three days were up, Mix left the fire fighters as popular a foreman as he is a picture star and all hated to see him go. The men gave him three rousing cheers, as smoke-begrimed, tired and fire-stained, he walked away, leaving three hundred ardent Mix fans behind him.

"Teeth," the picture Mix made in the midst of all this excitement, will be shown all this week at the West End theater.

EDISON FIRM TO SPEND BIG AMOUNT HERE DURING YEAR

$600,000 Is Set Aside By Officials For Work In Santa Ana District

APPROPRIATION IS OVER $25,000,000

Twenty Per Cent Increase In Power Used Recorded, Says Mgr. Deimling

During this year the Southern California Edison company will spend $600,000 in the Santa Ana district for extensions and reinforcement of its electric distribution system. District Manager, W. L. Deimling received this information from the general offices of the company this morning.

The total appropriations for power development and distribution system betterments of the Southern California Edison company for the year 1925 exceed $25,000,000. Important recommendations were made by Deimling to General Manager R. H. Ballard at the close of the year, detailing the requirements of the local system. The local appropriations include a portion of the San Joaquin river, Big Creek diversion project and the great Long Beach steam plant, delivering electrical energy to Santa Ana and its immediate vicinity, and cover extensions and reinforcements of the local distribution lines and stations.

In commenting on the development of the territory comprising the Santa Ana district, Deimling said:

District Ranks High

"The growth of our district ranks very high in the general development of Southern California. Both in number of new consumers and added connected load in horsepower the entire district which includes the incorporated cities of Santa Ana, Orange, Tustin, Garden Grove, Laguna Beach, the important towns of El Toro, Irvine, Fairview, McPherson and the intervening territory, has maintained an annual increase slightly above 20 per cent. To keep pace with this compounding annual addition, our company has in the past and will in the future make very large expenditures for service lines and distributing stations. Our payrolls for construction work have been very large and as practically the entire area of the district is rapidly developing into communities of urban homes, we anticipate a continuation of annual expenditures for construction in large amounts.

"Our program for local system reinforcement for this year includes the enlargement of the capacity of many of the main feed-

Building for Month Now Over $200,000

Building permits for the month to date have passed the $200,000 mark, and indications are that by Saturday, January 31, the aggregate will be in the neighborhood of $225,000, it was stated today by W. S. Decker, building inspector.

Forty-five residential permits have been issued since January 1, Inspector Decker stated. The majority of the dwellings under construction here average around $5000 in price.

Santa Ana is leading many larger cities of the country in erection of dwellings, according to Decker. Information reaching him is to the effect the residential boom now in progress will continue throughout the year.

HOMES WORTH $65,000 UNDER WAY AT TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Jan. 29.—Building activities here at the present time include the erection of nearly $65,000 in new homes, and about $30,000 in business buildings, according to a canvass made of the district recently.

During the past one and one-half years, approximately $550,000 in new homes have been constructed among the orange groves of Tustin, it was shown by figures compiled in the canvass of the new buildings of the town. In seven subdivisions opened during the past one and one-half years, 105 new homes, averaging $4900 each in price, were erected.

Many of the homes have cost as much as $20,000 and $25,000, it is claimed. Several were estimated at $15,000 and several at $10,000. Very few of the beautiful homes erected have cost less than $3500.

Most of the houses are on the Spanish type, stucco, and are established as country homes for Santa Ana business men.

Other new homes which have been erected about the city and in the Lemon Heights district will total 15 or more in number. Most of them cost in the neighborhood of $15,000 each. Among these homes are those erected by O. B. Newcom, on Yorba street; W. Lester Tubbs, and H. Bailey, Tustin avenue; Maurice Enderle, Yorba street; Harvey Rimer, B street, and several homes on Lemon Heights.

Two new homes are now under construction on Yorba street by Louis Brach, Santa Ana man. One of the houses will be a seven-room Spanish stucco of the latest type, and will cost about $15,000, according to Brach. The house will be used as a model home on the Mountain View tract.

Brach also has charge of construction work on two other homes on the tract, one a five-room Span-

BANK DEPOSITS FOR 1924 TOTAL $4,619,100.26

Orange County Financial Institutions Reflect General Prosperity

Depositors in banks of Orange county had deposits totaling $4,619,100.26 at the close of 1924, according to a compilation of credits made by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, from the statements of the financial concerns as of December 31, 1924.

"This figure does not represent the peak of deposits during the year, since two or three weeks earlier the banks throughout the citrus regions carried deposits in excess of the quoted amount," Johnson said, in declaring that the dull year of 1924 was not reflected as much in the statements of Orange county possibly as in some of the other counties of the Southland.

"Total resources of all the banks were not available for the reason that some are branches, but the resources of the concerns making statements was $4,468,451.01.

"A most satisfactory indication of thrift is seen in the $9,069,531.01 deposited in the savings accounts in the county, this sum being included in the total deposits given. "Information from the different banks in the county is to the effect that the savings accounts are gradually increasing in number and that the spirit of thrift seems to be steadily developing among the wage-earners, who make no inconsiderable portion of the steady methodical depositors.

"The credit bank patrons have in the financial institutions emphasize the fact that they started the new year in anything but a 'hard-time' condition.

"The deposits further emphasize the fact that Orange county residents are prosperous and they explain in a measure why the county in a commercial way is considered one of the best sections in the state."

Costa Mesa to Have New Paper In Near Future

J. Winterbourne and Son, news paper publishers are completing plans for starting a newspaper at Costa Mesa, it was revealed here today through announcement that Dale E. Winterbourne had purchased a residence at Costa Mesa. The property was bought from Elmer E. Rutledge.

The publishers have leased a business room in which to publish the paper and have made arrangements for installing equipment for printing of the paper at Costa Mesa, it was announced by a member of the firm.

The date of first publication has not been decided upon as yet. There has been no decision as to the name, and it was intimated that possibly this would be developed by a contest among residents of the community, with a prize offered to the person offering the name chosen.

Winterbourne and Son now are publishers of the Missionite at Capistrano, the News at Tustin and the Bulletin at Balboa.

Whitney Buys 10 Acre Lemon Grove

C. H. Whitney, foreman of the Irvine ranch, has purchased a 10-acre lemon grove in the Lemon Heights district, the property being purchased from the Patino and Capasso Fruit company, of Los Angeles, it became known here today. Fred Stever, local real estate broker, negotiated the sale.

Newport Man Purchases S. A. Property

George Faul, of the tonorial firm of Knauf and Faul, has purchased the E. M. Demick property on the northeast corner of Sycamore and Pine streets and, with his wife, has moved to Santa Ana, from Newport Beach.

The property consists of a duplex, 221-23 South Sycamore, and a five-room cottage on the rear, 111 West Pine street. As soon as the later place is vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Demick, Mr. and Mrs. Faul will make their home there. The latter are now occupying the south half of the duplex.

The consideration involved in the deal was not made public.

PERMITS FOR 12 DWELLINGS ISSUED HERE

A one story building 60x100 feet for a combination flower shop and hot house will be erected at 201-3 West Washington street by the Pease-Kolberg company of Orange. The structure will be of frame, stucco and glass. The cost is estimated at $3000. The owners will direct the work.

Permits for 12 dwellings were issued during the past week by the building department. S. E. Abell of 816 West Walnut street secured a permit for the construction of a five room house and a garage at 806 West Walnut street. William Ulm has the contract. The cost will be $3000.

A six room residence and a garage to represent the expenditure of $4000 will be built at 422 Harwood street by Ernest Dunn of 825 East Third street. J. W. Hess is the contractor.

Mrs. B. F. White plans to add another story to her home at 730 South Birch street and has awarded the contract to William Rohrbacher. The cost is estimated at $3800.

Contractor Rohrbacher has been authorized by W. L. Gibbs of 1620 North Main street to erect a residence and a garage at 1202 South Ross street at a cost of $4800.

Will O'Brien of 1002 South Birch street has been issued a permit for the building of a residence and a garage at 1126 South Van Ness street. The amount to be expended is about $3500. Friedinger & Hinginger have the contract.

M. L. Keeler of Seal Beach plans the construction of a residence and a garage at 925 Kilson Drive at a cost of $3500. N. E. Watson is the contractor.

White & Childers of 306 North Broadway will erect a dwelling and a garage at 815 North Artesia drive. Construction will be by day work. The cost will be $2000.

Ethel Walker of 1318 East Third street plans the building of a house and a garage at 718 Kilson drive. The cost will total $3000. The buildings will be erected by day work.

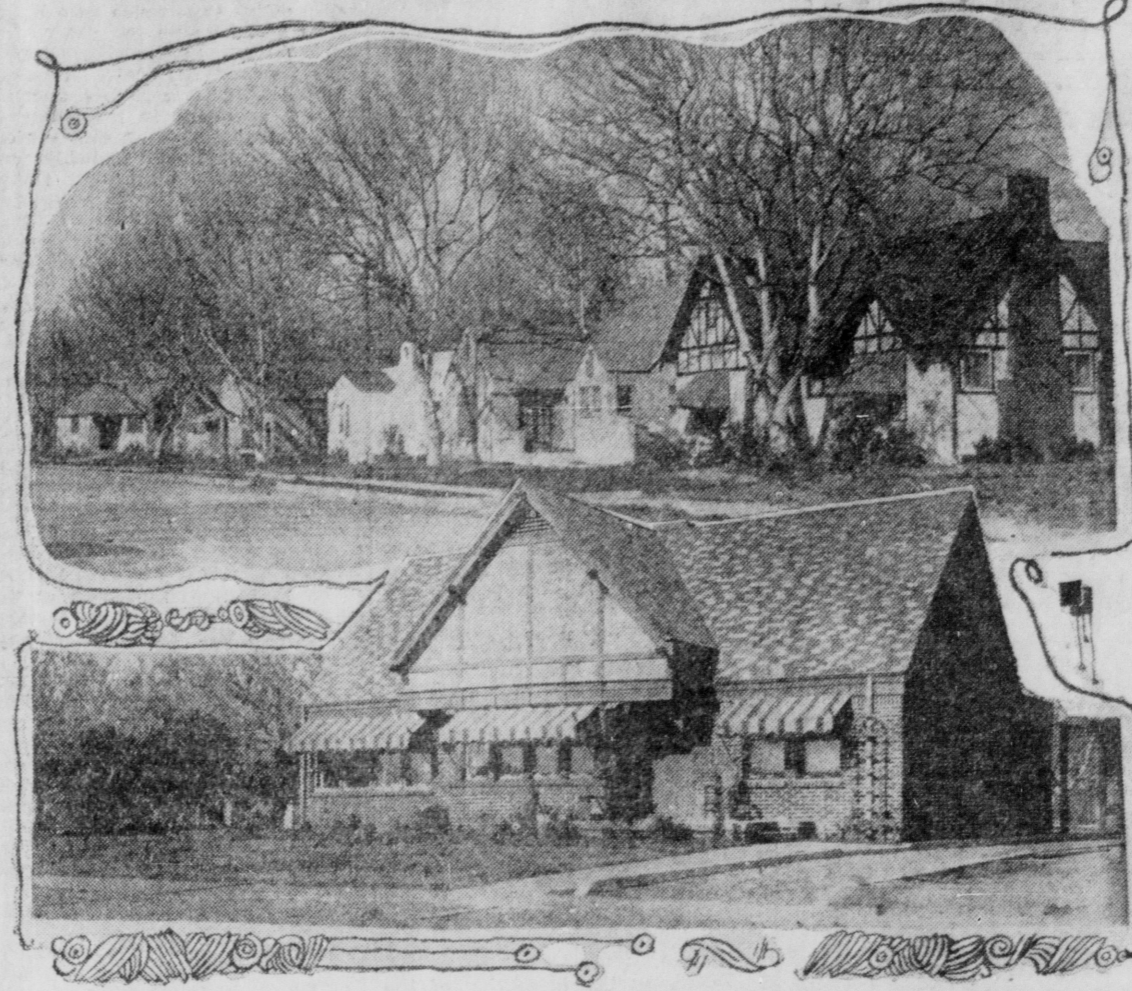

Four thousand dollars will be spent by C. A. Leatherwood of 1232 West Chestnut street in erecting a house and a garage at 1119 Oak street for himself.

O. F. Fowler of 1412 South Van Ness street will construct a five room dwelling and a garage at 1250 South Ross street. The owner will supervise the work.

A duplex and a garage will be erected at 1051 West Eighth street by W. H. Dixon of 1308 Cypress street and Kenneth H. Burns of 643 North Birch street. The cost will be $4475.

H. B. Holcomb of 737 Molino avenue, Long Beach, will erect a 4000 house and garage at 813 Hickory street.

ATTRACTIVE HOMES IN S. A. SUBDIVISION

Top, group of dwellings on Bonnie Brae drive in the North Broadway park tract. Lower, residence of W. W. Wiesseman at the northwest corner of Benton way and North park boulevard.

NORTH BROADWAY PARK IS RAPIDLY BECOMING SHOW PLACE OF ORANGE COUNTY

With street improvements costing in excess of $120,000 under way, and 10 new residences under construction, North Broadway Park, on the northwest corner of Broadway and West Santa Clara avenues, today is one of the most active of the big subdivisions in the city of Santa Ana.

According to a statement today by Dr. J. L. Stephenson and N. E. Wray, owners of tracts in the 50-acre subdivision, all street work will be completed within the next 60 days. The work under way includes the installation of water, sewer and gas services, paving, sidewalk on all streets, and installation of an ornamental lighting system throughout the tract.

Completion of the paving of North Park boulevard is anticipated as the opening of a new outlet from the city to the north. The boulevard starts at the corner of Santa Clara and Broadway and with attractive curves winds its way through the tract to a connection with North Flower street, the latter street extending north to a connection with West Chapman avenue, Orange, the junction being at a point near the bridge across the Santa Ana river.

Platted as one of the most unique subdivisions in the city, development of the tract has been delayed by various agencies that have operated in connection with the opening of the tract. Recently the owners of tracts embraced in the subdivision initiated active improvements that has been reflected in the street work now nearing completion.

Forming the big subdivision are the properties of the Southern California Investment company, which controls the 10 acres formerly owned by Walter R. Fine, and the 12-acre place of Mrs. T. M. Robertson; N. E. Wray, 10 acres; Dr. J. L. Stephenson, 6 1/2 acres, and Chris Petz, 10 acres.

It was pointed out today that while street improvements in the tract have been retarded in their development, there has been no particular delay in the building of residences. Twenty-five residences have been erected, each varying in cost from $6000 to $20,000. The dwellings now are under construction and many lots have been sold to persons who are awaiting completion of the street improvements before starting building operations. It is predicted heavy construction work will rule on the tract this summer.

"North Broadway Park unquestionably is the most beautiful tract ever offered to Santa Ana home seekers," Dr. Stephenson said. "It has the highest elevation of any part of the city, is perfectly drained and has a magnificent view. Beautiful park and orange trees are growing on most every lot. Restrictions safeguard building, giving assurance to the builder of a handsome home that a little lack will not be erected by the side of his property."

A list of those who already have built homes, are building or will build in the near future read more or less like a portion of the directory of professional and business men of Santa Ana. J. K. Hermion, vice president and manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific-Southwest bank, initiated the building program on the tract, erecting a handsome residence on the northeast corner of Broadway and Santa Clara. Adjoining the tract, on the north, North Park boulevard, is the $20,000 residence of R. O. Winkler, now under construction. Winkler is a manufacturer who recently came here from Hammond, Ind. Richard Emison, general manager of the Santa Ana Lumber company, has purchased a lot near that of Winkler's and this summer will erect a $20,000 dwelling.

Grouped around the corner of North Park boulevard and Benton way are sites purchased for homes to be built by Edwin C. Nelson, retired business man; W. H. Hasdon, druggist; E. R. Ford, paving contractor; Earl H. Jones of the Chandler Furniture company; W. A. Obar, with S. Hill and Son. This also is the location of the W. F. Wiesseman home.

At the next intersection, Helldrope and Benton way, are the homes of Elmer Heide, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Auto Club of Southern California, and Charles Holcomb, local real estate dealer, and R. C. Smedley, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has a residence under way. Stanley Clem, sales manager for the Santa Ana Lumber company, and A. H. Gritton, of the Ford Construction company, have lots on this intersection.

D. E. Hammond, dean of the Junior college and principal of the high school; Dr. C. R. Lane, physician, and F. Y. Veatch, contractor, have residences on Riverside drive. Among others who have bought lots on that street and are preparing to build are Asa Hoffman, real estate broker; Spencer Collins, clothier; Roy S. Horton, optometrist; W. E. Patterson, manager of the Orange County Certified Used Car market; S. F. Sorenson, builder of

ORANGE COUNTY TO ENTERTAIN 1000 SHRINERS

The Orange County Shrine club will entertain in Orange county on June 3, 1900 of the large number of men and women who will attend the fifty-first annual session of the Imperial Council, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles Mystic Shrine, which convenes in Los Angeles on June 1, it was announced here today by D. Eymann Huff, president of the club.

By arrangements already made each temple represented at the annual gathering will delegate six to eight nobles and ladies to be the guests of Orange county. On the date, the guests will congregate at the Pacific Electric depot in Los Angeles and between 9 and 10 a. m. will leave on special trains for La Habra, where they will be met by automobiles provided by Orange county. The club band will greet the delegates on their arrival.

The automobile caravan will drive to Brea and Olinda, giving the visitors opportunity to see the oil fields and orange groves, then to Placentia, Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange. At the latter point the cars will be parked around the plaza and visitors will get out of the machines and pose for an aeroplane picture.

The excursionists then will be driven to Orange county park, where, at 12:30 p. m., they will be treated to a genuine Spanish barbecue. Everything will be Spanish, from "soup to nuts." The barbecue will be prepared and served by natives in Spanish costume. During the feast, Spanish entertainers will present a complete program, following which a special program will be given by motion picture actors. The Shrine club band also will offer a program.

Leaving the park at 3 p. m., the party will be driven through Hewes Park, Tustin, Santa Ana, Garden Grove, and back to La Habra, where the members will entrain for Los Angeles, reaching the latter point between 6 and 7 p. m.

Gifts representative of Orange county will be given each guest, the gifts including Valencia oranges, walnuts, beans, sugar, olives and other products of the soil.

State Realtors Urged to Assist Letter Campaign

In an appeal broadcast by special bulletin, President D. Richard Ainsley of the California Real Estate association is asking all members of the association to write one or more letters to friends and relatives in the east, the idea being to bring every member of the largest state realty organization into immediate and constructive action to aid California from Siskiyou to Imperial in presenting the true facts concerning conditions here before the eastern mind.

President Ainsley, in all his addresses before the scores of realty boards in California, now holding their annual dinners, is making a powerful plea for concerted action by all boards to help the state counteract the unfair and untrue statements sent broadcast among the middle western folk by prejudiced minds.

It was estimated today at the state association office that the result in tens of thousands of letters being mailed east before March 1.

EXPERT SAYS TOURISTS ARE NOT SUBJECT TO POLL TAX

Secretary of State Board Refutes False Reports 'Now In Circulation'

VISITORS EXEMPT FROM RECENT LAW

Intangible Securities of Non-Residents Are Not Taxable, Lack States

Tourists in California are not taxed and statements in news syndicate articles recently released throughout the United States representing that tourists in California will be subject to a poll tax and a tax on intangible securities are branded as false in a communication by M. D. Lark, secretary of the California state board of equalization to A. L. Olinger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Pointing out that the articles originated in San Francisco and were sent out to many eastern publications, which "played" them big, Lark says:

"The poll tax law recently enacted in California provides that it shall be collected from 'inhabitants' of this state, which has already in connection with other laws, been interpreted to mean residents of California. The tax on intangibles will, undoubtedly, be materially reduced by the present legislature, but it does not apply to non-residents in its present form. Neither is there any thought or proposal to make it do so. In fact, the legislature has not the authority under the constitutional provisions.

"A charitable view of the matter makes it preferable to believe that the statements were prompted by ignorance of the facts rather than a wilful attempt on the part of the writers to intentionally injure the state.

"California adopted no law at the last election which brings into taxation any property that has not been taxable for many years. The purpose of the constitutional amendment referred to in these articles, is to relieve securities of California residents (securities of non-residents are not taxable) of a very large percentage of the tax to which they are now and for many years have been subject.

"This law was conceived wholly and was carefully designed to reduce the tax on this class of properties of its residents, but has by a misconception, or the faulty reasoning of the writers of these articles, been mistakenly and absurdly set up as intended to do exactly the opposite thing. The intangible securities of non-residents are not taxable in this state, neither does the poll tax, recently enacted, apply to them, and any statement to the contrary is not only unwarranted but false."

IMPORTANCE OF HARBOR ROADS IS EMPHASIZED

Importance of highways in harbor development was forcibly brought to public attention by the conference held at Newport Beach on Tuesday, at the suggestion of General Lansing H. Beach, who is preparing a plan and layout for Newport Bay as a harbor for Orange county.

At this conference were present, in addition to General Beach, H. A. Lake, chairman, and R. J. McFadden, E. L. McFadden, James Irvine Jr., F. L. Alinsworth, members of the Orange County Harbor commission; N. T. Edwards, Louis Evardine, S. V. Cortelyou, of the State Highway commission; H. A. Lathrop and W. L. Raven of the Southern Pacific company; Lew H. Wallace, former harbor commissioner, and Supervisors T. B. Talbert, William Schumacher and George Jeffrey.

Owing to an important call to the East, M. de Brabant, of the Union Pacific system, was unable to attend the conference. County Engineer J. L. McBride was also absent, he being in attendance at San Bernardino on legal matters.

The conference was called to consider the alignment of a short section of the state highway north of the present county channel at Newport Bay and it was agreed by all present that certain changes could be easily and economically made before the permanent pavement is put in place.

After a discussion on the merits of the various suggested changes the officials of the state highway commission offered to have a study made and a plan proposed in the near future.

Due to anticipated heavy travel over the roads in the vicinity of the bay it was decided that crossings must be avoided, if at all possible, and main lines of travel so placed that interference with harbor business be reduced to a minimum.

Following the inspection of the roads, the harbor commission held its regular meeting at the Newport Harbor Yacht club. General Beach stated that he has made considerable progress on his report and it will be ready for submission to the harbor commission in two or three weeks.

Q. Can you advise me what it will cost to build a small California house by 24 feet in dimension?

A. The approximate cost to build a California house the size you mention will be $1600 complete.

Q. I contemplate building a five room house soon. Will you advise me if it will be cheaper to erect the building or let a contractor handle the work?

A. We would advise you to select a reliable contractor. First because of his experience as a builder he will be able to carry the work through in the shortest possible time at the least expense and a saving in materials. Second, he is a specialist in the construction of homes, has an efficient organization, and can probably purchase materials at a less quantity than you could. Third, he will take on the job for no other reason, when you have signed the contract with reliable contractor backed up by a bond, you know just what you are getting. The contractor will build for you, whereas if you undertake the construction without proper supervision the final cost is liable to overrun your estimate by a wide margin, and the final cost be disappointing to you.

Q. I have just completed a five room house which I have sold on the monthly payment plan. The purchaser made a substantial down payment and desires to pay the balance of $4000 in six years, monthly, including interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum. How much will the monthly payments be?

A. To pay off $4000 in six years, the monthly payments, which include interest at seven per cent per annum will be $68.19 1-2.

Q. What is the proper distance to space upright studs in a one-story bungalow to be finished with plaster?

A. For the best construction upright studs should be placed not less than 16 inches center to center and reinforced around each opening.

Q. Can you advise me how much size covered by a bungalow 28 feet by 36 feet in size?

A. One roll of roofing paper contains sufficient paper to cover 100 square feet of surface. Compute the area to be covered, and for each 100 square feet of surface, allow one roll of paper.

Q. Can you tell me what was the cause of a large crack, which extends from the top of the wall to the foundation, appearing in a comparatively new stucco building?

A. It is more than probable that the foundation of the house has settled in one place more than the other which would indicate that the construction of the foundation had not been given proper attention.

Q. Can I take out insurance on a bungalow before it is completed?

A. You should insure your building in full against fire during the construction period. Any reliable company will write such insurance for you.

Q. Am I permitted to construct a false chimney in connection with a false fireplace?

A. False or imitation chimneys cannot be constructed in connection with any false or brick fireplace, and when constructed separately therefrom, must be solidly closed at the top, bottom and sides and shall not have any vent flue of any kind therein.

Q. What would you suggest as convenient electrical outlets for a modern kitchen in a small home?

A. We would suggest eight outlets for the modern kitchen as follows: Water heater, utility motor, bracket light over the sink, outlets and switch for dishwasher, front door bell, back door buzzer, switch for a range and range outlet.

Q. Should exterior surfaces be covered with waterproof paper before applying stucco?

A. Yes. All exterior surface of wood construction should be covered with waterproof felt paper, lapped at least two inches, starting at the bottom of the wall before metal lath is applied.

Q. What causes light spots in a finished stucco house?

A. Light spots are caused from several reasons. Probably the most common is that when color-blended stuccos dry fast they dry light, and when they dry slow they dry a darker shade. Stucco applied in the late afternoon will dry as rapidly as when applied in the forenoon, due to the lower temperature during the night. Therefore, it is noticed that, generally the light spots occur in stucco which was applied in the morning or at a higher temperature.

er lines and also extensions where needed. A thorough survey was made this fall of station facilities and we determined that during 1925 additional capacity would be required at the large Fairview and Katella high tension stations, that a new station of greater capacity should be constructed at Orange and additions made to the equipment at Laguna Beach, Santa Ana and Garden Grove.

"Owned by People"

Continuing, Deimling said, "Here are just a few straight from the shoulder facts; the Southern California Edison company is truly a people's company, owned by the people, developing a people's project for the benefit of the citizens served. It will soon have completed the Florence Lake tunnel, the longest water diversion in the world, which diverts the waters of the upper San Joaquin river 45 miles from their natural course into Huntington and Shaver lakes 7,000 feet above sea level. The tunnel is 15 feet in diameter, 13½ miles in length, and driven through the solid granite of Kaiser mountain. This is a gigantic undertaking, involving superlative engineering and economic skill, yet the management of the company will have completed this splendid asset to Southern California's power resources without entailing one iota of expense to Southern California Edison consumers, all such money having been derived from new capital investments in sales of stocks and bonds. As a matter of actual fact rates have been twice reduced during the interval of its construction.

"To sustain the millions who will ultimately reside here, power, industries, and payrolls are of supreme concern, and the obligation to promote the successful development of economic power is a real duty of citizenship.

"Acting in accord with this thought the Southern California Edison company's executive officers and engineers have planned and put into successful operation the first 220,000 volt transmission line extant. To meet the emergency produced by the succession of exceptionally dry years and the resultant loss in water power a 100,000 horsepower steam plant was erected and put in operation within nine months. These major projects have all been brought to fruition at a time when rapid growth was taxing the company's personnel to the limit; its consumers, connected load in horsepower and power supplied having trebled in 5 years. The important bearing these achievements shall have on the future growth and development of Southern California can hardly be over estimated."

HECKLING SINGERS
PARIS, Jan. 26.—The "Camelot" and "Lot" famous singing and whistling organization, which attempted to hoot down Premier Herriot during his campaign tour, is now turning its attention to Fascist speakers. Every time one of them attempts to make a speech, members of the organization start singing and whistling so loudly that he cannot be heard.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Christian missionary work to be fully successful must be marked by a "brood and genuine liberalism, tolerance and spirit of brotherhood," President Coolidge told the foreign missions convention at its opening session here.

"Christian churches and government have no greater responsibility than to make sure that the best and not the worst of which Christian society is capable, shall be given to the other people," Mr. Coolidge said.

"To accomplish this is the dominating purpose of your missionary movement."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday at St. Ann's Inn was featured by a brief report by O. H. Barr on the zone meeting of clubs held recently at Whittier; a short talk by Dr. F. E. Coulter recounting incidents of his visit in the east; an outline by A. L. Rousseau of the tour he is to make abroad starting February 3; vocal selections by Munroe Sharpless, and presentation of the playlet "Food" by members of the high school class in dramatics. Ernest Crozier Phillips, who was program chairman, directed the skit.

The playlet was put on by Miss Madeline Moase, Emil Faust and Ruell Yount. The comedy skit interprets food conditions in 1922, when an egg is expected to be too high in cost even for a millionaire to enjoy and when crackers and milk will be available only to the extremely wealthy. The skit was very cleverly done.

Deliveries of distilled water ice from the Taylor plant at 1644 East Fourth street will be made commencing Monday, February 2, according to an announcement by Scott and Strenke, distributors. This ice has hitherto been sold only at the platform of Taylor's plant, Santa Ana, and until this time it has not been delivered locally.

C. W. Strenke, who has been connected with the People's Ice company and the Home Ice company, of Los Angeles, for four years will have immediate active management of the business of the new concern. He will be joined later in the season by his partner, V. V. Scott. Two ice delivery trucks will be operated by the firm.

Howard B. Drake, Fullerton youth, today has compromised a $10,000 damage suit against Mr. and Mrs. William Wickett, with a settlement of his claim for $1198.55.

His father and guardian, W. M. Drake, was granted permission by Superior Judge Z. B. West yesterday to compromise the claim, which was based on injuries sustained by the boy in an accident on East Chapman avenue, Fullerton, last March 2.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday at St. Ann's Inn was featured by a brief report by O. H. Barr on the zone meeting of clubs held recently at Whittier; a short talk by Dr. F. E. Coulter recounting incidents of his visit in the east; an outline by A. L. Rousseau of the tour he is to make abroad starting February 3; vocal selections by Munroe Sharpless, and presentation of the playlet "Food" by members of the high school class in dramatics. Ernest Crozier Phillips, who was program chairman, directed the skit.

The playlet was put on by Miss Madeline Moase, Emil Faust and Ruell Yount. The comedy skit interprets food conditions in 1922, when an egg is expected to be too high in cost even for a millionaire to enjoy and when crackers and milk will be available only to the extremely wealthy. The skit was very cleverly done.

FARMERS AND MERCHANTS SAVINGS BANK TO WELCOME PATRONS TO NEW QUARTERS

A reception for all patrons and the general public will be held Saturday by the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank in its new home at the northwest corner of Fourth street and Broadway. The doors will open at 2 o'clock, close at 5 o'clock, re-open at 7 o'clock and close again at 9 o'clock.

An entertaining musical program will be presented under the direction of Ollimae Enlow Matthews, well known Santa Ana violinist. Mrs. Matthews has attracted wide notice because of her finesse and a large attendance of Orange county folk is anticipated by the officers of the institution.

A cordial invitation for everyone to inspect the new banking quarters of the bank has been issued by President W. A. Huff. All the officers will be on hand to conduct the visitors over the premises. The reception will be of an informal nature.

The quarters at Fourth and Broadway are considered highly artistic. The architect, Frank Lansdown, together with the general contractor, Justus Birtcher and the various sub-contractors have remodeled the building into one of the most attractive in Orange county.

The bank has a frontage of 31 feet on Fourth street and 400 feet on Broadway. There are two entrances, one on each street.

The front is of terra cotta. The wrought iron work on the outside is considered especially attractive. Creating a most pleasing effect, the architect has had placed over each entrance a copper hood, composed of 200 individual pieces. Entrances are done in marble.

Interior Well Lighted.
Six hundred feet of space along the front and sides are given over to glass space, affording a well lighted interior at all times of the day. This particular feature has been the source of many favorable comments by patrons of the institution.

All woodwork in the room is mahogany. The interior of the room has been given a bronze green treatment, with a resultant pleasing effect which is seldom seen. The various lighting fixtures were chosen with the idea in mind of harmonizing to the highest degree the various other fixtures and decorations.

Accommodations have been provided for eight tellers. Space at the front has been provided for President Huff, Vice President W. B. Tedford and Cashier Alex Brownridge.

At the rear of the banking room, on the east side, are the coupon booths and the safety deposit vault. The booths are large enough for patrons to transact their business with absolute privacy and comfort. Soft lights, automatically lighted when the doors are opened, provide lights in the booths.

The coin vault, located on the other side of the room, occupies a space 10x15 feet. Steel shelves have been placed along the sides of the walls. Walls of this safe, as well as those of the safety deposit and the larger deposit vault in the basement are 18 inches in thickness. Floors are also 18 inches in thickness. Steel and concrete in abundance have been used to create burglar proof safes.

Modern Alarm System.

The burglar alarm system at the bank is one of the most up-to-date on the market. An elaborate system of wires have been strung to every part of the bank, the officials being determined to provide every protection within their power.

A large deposit vault for the storage of larger articles, such as records, books, etc., has been located in the basement.

The Farmers' and Merchants' Savings bank came into being through a consolidation July 1, 1919, of the Santa Ana Savings bank and the Home Savings bank of Santa Ana. The home of the institution at that time was at the southwest corner of Fourth and Main streets.

Deposits July 1, 1910, were $1,550,000 and the resources were $1,715,000. Deposits January 1, 1925, were $2,600,000 and the resources were $3,000,000, showing a remarkable growth.

The directors of the consolidated bank were W. A. Huff, A. J. Crookshank, J. A. Turner, John D. Parsons, R. E. Larter, W. B. Williams and A. C. Bowers. The places of Turner and Parsons, deceased, have been taken by W. B. Tedford and Joan L. Wheeler. These men constitute the directorate.

Officers at the bank are: President, W. A. Huff; vice president, W. B. Tedford; cashier, Alex Brownridge; assistant cashier, E. P. Stafford; assistant cashier, J. H. Metzgar.

Pending the remodeling of the building at Fourth street and Broadway, the bank was located in temporary quarters at 213 West Fourth street. From April 9, 1923, to December 31, 1924, exactly 2513 new accounts were opened at this location. This was in spite of the crowded quarters. Officers and stockholders are well pleased with this showing.

Associated C. C. To Meet Tonight

A. L. Olinger today directed attention again to the meeting tonight of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the "Tea and Tiffin" at Laguna Beach. The Laguna Beach chamber of commerce has given assurance of a program of splendid entertainment in addition to the program of the county organization.

According to George Raymer, secretary of the associated chambers, no big county-wide project is scheduled for discussion, but he anticipates the development of discussions that will be of interest.

A chicken dinner is to be served by the caterer. Reservations indicate a good attendance.

Will Check Trees On N. Main Street

Meeting last night at the home of the chairman, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, the city park commission appointed one of its members, Robert Northcross, to accompany Frank Purinton, street commissioner on trip today on North Main street to mark trees that should be trimmed or removed because of interference with the efficiency of the ornamental lighting system on that street.

Purinton said today that it was expected men would be put to work tomorrow cutting out or trimming trees that threaten lamp posts and globes or that interfere with the rays of light from lamps spreading over the street.

Tries to Swim Back to U. S. A.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—William H. Kern, British subject, who was picked up by the revenue cutter Shawnee four miles off the Golden Gate yesterday and explained that he had been deported but had jumped overboard to swim back to Uncle Sam, will be placed aboard the next England-bound steamer.

Kern stowed away on the freighter Pacific shipper and was turned over to the federal authorities here January 25. Immigration authorities sent him back on the London importer, and about five miles out he leaped over the rail and started his leisurely paddle landward.

LOCAL MEN, FIRMS BUILT NEW BANK

Local workmen and local stores furnished the work and material for the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank building at Fourth and Broadway streets, now the home of the bank bearing the same name.

Frank Lansdown was the architect and Justus Birtcher the general contractor. The bank fixtures were made to order and furnished by the Santa Ana Cabinet Works. Walter Wright did the terra cotta work.

The terrazzo floors, tile, bronze, marble, glass, copper moulding and Sani-Metal lavatory partitions were all supplied by W. W. Kays. Phips Dros. did the plastering and the sign work was done by C. W. Rowland.

Among those recently admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States is Miss Grace M. Eddy of Wisconsin, the first woman ever appointed examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"Open House" Saturday Afternoon and Evening

A very cordial invitation is extended to everyone to visit us in our new quarters next Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, and in the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Music.

A Record of Growth That Justifies Our Spacious New Home

Our new home is located at the Northwest corner of Fourth and Broadway.

Savings deposits
January 1st
were $2,600,000.00;
resources over
$3,000,000.

We were not very cheerful when we moved into the little store room at 213 West Fourth on April 7th, 1923! And it did not seem possible that we could grow in a business way under the cramped and unfamiliar conditions.

But it is amazing to realize that the Farmers & Merchants books show the acquisition of

2513 New Depositors

from April 7th, 1923, to December 31st, 1924! Also, that the books show a

Net Gain of Over $400,000.00 In Deposits

during that time! We hardly expected to hold our own while in these temporary quarters—far more remote seemed the possibility of such a growth, or even the ability to take care of it—especially during a year which was supposed to be somewhat adverse in business conditions.

Our organization rose to the occasion. What will be its service to our depositors with every facility at its command in our new quarters at Broadway and Fourth!

Our new home is the other extreme from our former congested quarters. They have been designed, not only to take care of present needs and new services, but to provide for the future growth indicated by past experience.

Surely with such assurance of public support and appreciation of our service, we can enter into this new period of our development with the firmest of confidence.

We present this new home, its enlarged facilities, and new services, in a spirit of gratitude for the patronage that enabled us to build it.

We gained 2513 new depositors while in our temporary cramped quarters.

We showed a net gain of over $400,000.00 in deposits during that time.

We Give Two Kinds of Interest — Personal, and 4%.

COUNTY OFFICER CHARGES STATE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE LAW CAN NOT BE ENFORCED

There are some laws that cannot be enforced and among those are the California child labor act and the statutes bearing on compulsory education. Their enforcement regardless of economic conditions and the destitute state of the parents among the Mexican population would necessitate the building of additional jails and throw hundreds of families on the care of public charity.

This is the opinion of W. C. Roberts, county school attendance officer, based on years of personal experience in enforcing the school laws.

Limited earning power on the part of the father, unfamiliarity with language and customs of the country including its laws and regulations, and unrestricted immigration, are the principal reasons that labor against a strict enforcement against the child labor and the school laws, according to Roberts. This fact is appreciated by the judges as well as by the prosecuting attorneys, and in some instances it would not only be inhuman but a travesty on justice from a moral standpoint to compel its enforcement, the school officer declared.

"Cases have come to our attention where the earnings of the family head only amounted to $1.00 a day, on which the man and wife and several children were dependent for support. In other instances, due to destitution and sickness, it had been physically impossible for the parents to send the children to school," he pointed out.

As a remedy against this state of affairs, Roberts suggests that the restrictive features of the federal immigration laws be applied to Mexicans on a quota basis as they are to other nationalities.

Unrestricted immigration of Mexican laborers, particularly of those having large families, is a source of distinct danger to the community, he observed. Unable to take care of themselves in a proper way, they are easily attacked by disease, which for lack of medical attention, may at times develop into an epidemic, thus endangering the community. Then their lack of knowledge of language and customs often leads to unconscious and involuntary infractions of law, which must be overlooked by the authorities in order to avoid unnecessary hardships, he concluded.

Placentia, Costa Mesa and Garden Grove.

The meetings will be conducted by J. O. Doolittle, secretary of the Southern California council; Mrs. Doolittle, Mrs. G. D. Gentry and D. C. Weedon, all identified with the council.

"Church and school workers and friends are invited to attend the meeting in their neighborhood," the Rev. Mr. Burgess said, adding that there would be no charge.

URGES RIDERS TO DECORATE FOR PAGEANT

Fred St. Onge, who will direct the Safety First Bike parade here Saturday says "Bike riders of the city had better start to doll up their bikes. Search around the houses for bunting, flags, crepe paper and disguise the bike. Perhaps you will get a prize. Maybe the nickel parts can stand a little polish, give it a major's inspection.

"Remember competition will be keen and if you expect your bicycle to carry off one of the prizes, you had better start right now. Make it look attractive and distinctive. A lot of prizes are going to be awarded to riders in different classes in the great parade to be staged under the auspices of the Cycle Trades of America, H. W. Myrick, Henry Cycle Co., Fix-It Shop, and O. A. Leiby of Tustin. To win the prizes, you need only to display a little artistic talent in decorating your bicycle.

Heading the list of prizes is a gold watch from New Departure Coaster Brake Co., pair tires, Henry Cycle Co.; 20th Century lamp, H. W. Myrick; bicycle chain, O. A. Leiby; bicycle saddle, Fix-It Shop; pair roller skates, H. W. Myrick; pair pedals, Fix-It Shop. Next 23 riders in order will receive a fine bell and a pencil. The youngest rider will get a fine bell. P. H. Peters has added a luggage carrier and a tire bell to the list of prizes making exactly forty prizes in all.

Awards for Boy Scouts will receive Cycle Trades of America gold, silver and bronze medals in 1-23 order for neat appearance. The school with the greatest number of riders in line will receive a cycle trades silver trophy cup.

Riding a plank 150 feet long, five inches wide, and one inch high will be a contest in which all riders may compete. The first prize to the rider covering the greatest distance will be a gold watch by the Morrow Coaster Brake Co. of Elmhurst, New York. The second will be a bicycle horn by O. A. Leiby. And a new model tail light by Henry Cycle Co.

Riders with their wheels are asked to assemble early at St. Ann's Inn on Broadway as the start will be made promptly at 11 o'clock. Fred St. Onge will act as the pace maker astride of his full nickel wheel. The pace will be slow and comfortable. Those who want to speed may do so on their way home if they can get by the traffic officers. There will be no racing whatsoever in connection with this parade and the littlest fellow in the parade will be well taken care of. "Safety First" is the slogan of the promoters.

Assortment of Bicycles This bicycle parade will bring out some old wheels and some of the riders of other days will be in line. Delegations from the city schools have signified their intention of coming out in numbers. St. Onge has been visiting schools giving "Safety First" demonstrations. Souvenirs in the form of a book containing lessons in road department, traffic signals and instruction in proper methods of riding a bicycle will be given to all riders. There is no entry fee and no registration.

NEW WELLS THIS YEAR NUMBER 66

New oil wells started in California so far this year are 66 as compared with 120 at this time last year, according to the weekly bulletin of R. D. Bush, state oil and gas supervisor, covering oil operations for the week ending last Saturday.

Notices were filed with the department indicating the starting of 16 new wells in the state, two at Long Beach, one in the Rosemead field, one in Los Angeles county, one in San Bernardino county and five in the fields of Kern county.

In the Huntington Beach field tests for water shut-offs were made by the Shell Oil company on Davenport 2. Deepening or redrilling operations were started in the Huntington Beach field by the Pacific Petroleum Corporation, No. 10; Standard Oil company, Huntington B-24; Holly Oil company, No. 1, and by the M. H. Mosier special, Porter No. 3.

Notice was filed by the Shell Oil company of abandonment of Pico No. 3, in the Brea-Olinda field.

Western Judge Holds Court On Speeding Train

PROSSER, Wash., Jan. 27.—To set in motion an extradition action, Federal Judge E. E. Cushman held court on the North Coast Limited, en route from here to Spokane. H. F. McDonald, the defendant, had been held in jail here following his arrest for bringing a stolen automobile from Montana to Washington. Montana authorities were anxious to start proceedings, so Judge Cushman granted the request to arraign the man on the moving train. The court was held, the man ordered to Montana, and the judge went his way.

World Flyer Is Given Airplane

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Capt. Lowell Smith, commander of the American army aviators in their flight around the world, is today the owner of an airplane valued at $30,000. The plane was presented to Captain Smith by Leslie C. Brand, Glendale capitalist, "in recognition of the valiant service rendered his country in his successful around the world airplane flight."

BOOSTS BIKE

Fred St. Onge of the Cycle Trades of America who will direct the Safety First Bike parade Saturday morning, starting at 11 o'clock from St. Ann's inn. St. Onge has been seen at several Santa Ana schools giving Safety First demonstrations to cyclists, roller skaters, and children who play in streets.

FISHER GIVEN POSITION WITH SIGN COMPANY

Jack Fisher, well known Santa Ana artist, has been placed in charge of the commercial art department of the Wayne Goble company, specialists in all kinds of advertising art.

Fisher, for some time staff artist of The Register, will continue to contribute to this newspaper.

Previous to coming to Santa Ana, Fisher was employed in the art departments of The Call and The Chronicle of San Francisco. He is considered an expert in his line.

The Goble firm plans to increase its activities in the commercial art line, handling show cards, window displays, posters, etc.

Capital Letter

By HARRY B. HUNT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—George Harvey, late ambassador to Great Britain, is more direct than diplomatic in his estimate of the work of his successor, Ambassador Kellogg, secretary-of-state-to-be, in securing for Uncle Sam a share of the collections to be made from Germany under the Dawes plan.

America's share of these scheduled collections, amounting over a long period of years to some $250,000,000, is to repay us the cost of our army of occupation on the Rhine.

This amounts to slightly more than 2 per cent of the total collections planned to be effected through the Dawes system.

By thus bulking our claim with the reparation claims of other allied nations against Germany, Harvey holds our government has at one move nullified its whole policy of aloofness and non-participation in European affairs and that we are, as a result, as effectively ensnared in the European imbroglio as though we were a member of the League of Nations.

"America has been duped," Harvey shouts, while Ambassador Kellogg's nomination as secretary of state still awaits action. "We have been trapped by European diplomats in Paris."

"Here we are, pledged to intervention in the cockpit of Europe *** during the next half century; stalled, if you please, in a corral 'horse and hog tight.'"

Strong words, those, for the man who has been the editorial champion of President Coolidge—the man who claimed to have turned the tide toward Coolidge in the late election by his slogan: "Coolidge or Chaos."

Now, seemingly, George is of the mind that although we have Coolidge we may be headed for chaos anyway.

One thing seems certain out of the situation. We will be in for a period of prolonged debate in the Senate, in which the whole scope of Uncle Sam's relationship to Europe—past, present and future—will be raked over again.

Senators who hold the Harvey viewpoint—including the old irreconcilable battalion of the League of Nations fight—will claim the Kellogg agreement ineffective and without force until reviewed and approved by the Senate.

If this contention is sustained, a long wrangle in the Senate, with all the bitterness and uncertainty that accompanied the league fight, seems inevitable.

Should President Coolidge approve the Kellogg agreement, he will precipitate a breach in his own part on the very eve of the beginning of his new administration.

Should he reject the agreement, he is placed in position of repudiating his own selection for secretary of state.

One of the largest selling cough medicines in the world. Contains no opiates. Safe for children. Insist upon FOLEY'S. Refuse substitutes. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

ASK DAMAGES FOR BOY RUN DOWN BY CAR

A Seal Beach accident of last summer was echoed today in the superior court with the filing of a $15,000 damage suit on behalf of Robert Warden, 14, the accident victim.

The boy was knocked down by an automobile driven by I. E. Hindman, an employee of the Fernholtz Machinery company, at Seal Beach, August 24, last. He was in a hospital at Artesia until September 25 and is still under a doctor's care, having incurred permanent injuries to one leg and knee, the complaint says.

Mrs. Grace P. Warden, the boy's mother and guardian, filed the damage suit against Hindman and the machinery company. In addition to the $15,000 damage claim, she asks special damages of $423.94 to cover medical expense.

In the complaint, it was alleged that at the time of the accident, Hindman was driving without an operator's license and that he was speeding 35 miles an hour in the Seal Beach business district, where there was a limit of 15 miles an hour.

Attorney J. Everett Brown, of Los Angeles, represents the Wardens.

College "Y" Men To Hear Speech by New York Man

The Santa Ana Junior College Y. M. C. A., at its meeting next Monday evening at the local association building, will be honored by a visit from Dr. Roy H. Akagi, of New York, who is visiting student associations in the interest of international friendship, according to Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Akagi is a well known figure among the eastern colleges, and his coming to Santa Ana has been arranged in connection with his visits to other colleges in Southern California. The dinner meeting has been set at 6 o'clock Monday evening, it was added. Visitors, particularly those interested in the promotion of peace and international good will, will be welcomed to hear the address provided advance reservations are made for the dinner.

Roosevelt School To Give Operetta

The children of Roosevelt school under the direction of their music teacher, Miss Esther Jean Davis, will present a clever little operetta at the Yost theater between features tonight.

The operetta is entitled "The Goblin Fair."

THINK THIS OVER

What is the first thought of the average person that has some plumbing to be done? We will go where we can get the Best Work done? NO, we will go where we can get it done the cheapest. NOT because they want to be cheap but they do not stop to reason that you can not buy GOOD plumbing material cheap. Every article we sell is guaranteed to us by the manufacturer. If it goes bad the factory gives us the new fixture for replacement and pays us to take out the defective one. We try to figure and do our work as cheap as we can and do work that we can stand behind. We follow this same principle in our heating work; that is the reason we are having such SUCCESS with our furnaces. If you are in the market for anything in the plumbing line just telephone us at 1341 and we will gladly call on you and quote prices and lay out the work.

The Keep Out Sign Is Down!

No longer are the lovers of beautiful homesites and artistic homes barred from the great residential park known as Santa Ana's Northwest.

The high, fertile ground which for years and years fostered hearty orange and walnut trees—groves of them—is now crisscrossed by wide streets.

People are, even today, building on this heretofore "Forbidden Ground."

The Northwest is being subdivided!

Thousands upon thousands of dollars are being spent for improvements, a great portion of it by the city of Santa Ana. Because Santa Ana believes that the Northwest is one of her greatest factors toward a beautiful city.

You may take advantage of this beauty, this convenient location and the reward of fast investment advance by building your home in the Northwest—Now!

THE NORTHWEST IS
—the district north of Fourth street and west of Ross.
—located conveniently; right in town.
—high ground; fertile soil.
—being subdivided and improved with an eye to retaining its natural beauty.
—a section that will show rapid gains from the standpoint of investment alone.

A Gleamy Mass of Hair
35c "Danderine" does Wonders
for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair-brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out, and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.

Mustard Plasters!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker. There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

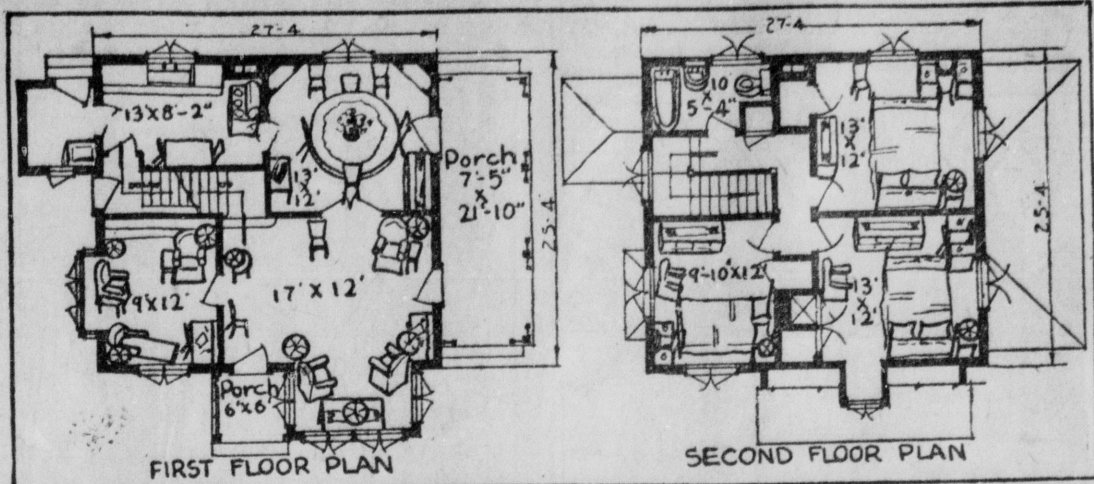

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole, 35c and 65c jars and tubes.

FIGHT LOOMS AT CAPITAL ON DRY ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—One of the worst congressional fights in this country's history is impending. It probably will settle the prohibition question for good and all.

The Frank D. Scott divorce case brought the situation about. Individuals mentioned in connection with this case may or may not be able to establish satisfactory personal alibis, but the nation's lawmakers are very well convinced the country is going to accept as true the picture presented of official society life in the capital—a life not only extremely gay but unrestrainedly wet.

There are three kinds of senators and representatives:

1. The wets.
2. Those who vote dry but drink wet.

The honest-to-goodness dries. The Scott case testimony pleases the wets. They consider it a black eye for prohibition.

Vote Dry and Drink
Those who vote dry but drink wet care nothing about prohibition in principle, of course.

They support dry measures and oppose wet ones only because they believe it is good for their political health.

Probably they would reverse themselves with as good or a better will if they thought a majority of their constituents would approve.

The Scott case testimony does not pain them on account of its disclosure of the fact that the very men who make the country's laws numerously violate the prohibition law. They know that already. They are merely scared lest they be found out.

The honest-to-goodness dries are thoroughly enraged. They realize that drinking congressmen and other government officials make prohibition ridiculous.

Their resentment against bibulousness in official circles has been increasing for a long time as they came more and more fully to find out how general it was. The Scott case has brought this anger to a head.

Dry leaders are in daily conference now, discussing plans for making it impossible to anyone in a government post to drink and hold his job.

Impeachment Proposed
One plan has taken pretty definite shape.

This is the impeachment and expulsion of any senator or representative who can be proved to be a consumer of anything with an alcoholic content in excess of 1-2 of 1 per cent.

In dozens of cases such proof will be easy to get.

But the question is: Proof having been furnished, will it be possible to get the necessary votes to throw the offenders out?

At first thought it may seem as if the answer should be—yes. The dry majority in both houses is a liberal one.

The trouble is, those who vote dry but drink wet probably will have to be counted out. They're dry on any question of wet-and-dry lawmaking but they hardly can be expected to vote to expel themselves from congress.

The honest-to-goodness dries and the wet dries, taken together, are in a majority, but how about the honest-to-goodness dries counted alone? It's more than doubtful if there's a majority of them.

Nevertheless, it's practically certain they will make the attempt. The leaders are counting heads now. They're doing their best to get pledges from doubtful ones.

Some are promising. Many are stalling. It's too soon yet to tell how the opposing forces will line up.

Big Fight Ahead
When the dry leaders are convinced their group has reached the maximum of obtainable strength they will launch their attack.

That there will be a terrible fight goes without saying. Even an attempt at the expulsion of dozens and scores of members of both the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States will be a sensation of proportions to compare with the outbreak of a war.

An attempt to expel nobody but the awfully wet wets would be that. If the honest-to-goodness dries succeed they'll have scored a victory for prohibition that will count.

If they fail—if Congress virtually admits that it's dry for the country but intends to stay wet so far as itself is concerned—it will be about the finish of so much as a semblance of prohibition enforcement, whether the law stays in the code book or not.

MAGAZINES AS TEXTBOOKS
LONDON, Jan. 29.—Readin', ritin' and 'rithmetik may or may not be taught most effectively to the tune of the old-time hickory stick, but one of the best means of making geography visual to children is through the use of travel posters and pictures clipped from magazines, according to a number of English school teachers who are employing this method with their classes.

FLOOR PLANS AND FRONT VIEW OF NEW HOME

Nowadays most homes have sun parlors. Not many, however, boast both sun parlor and den, as does this plan.

The solarium is surrounded with casements, which permit the whole opening to be used, instead of only half, as with ordinary windows. The living porch occupies a private and desirable location at the side of the house, and is reached through the living room.

At the left of the front entrance is the den. Under the casements at the front is a built-in seat with a hinged top. At each side of it, built-in book-cases fill the wall space in an exceedingly attractive and practical way.

At the side there is a bay. A long wall space is left for desk or couch.

French doors open between the living room and den. Looking through them, one sees a pair of casements, flanked by corner china closets, of English design and finish.

The kitchen has plenty of built-in cupboard space, a wall-case ironing board, and a pleasantly located sink.

Three excellent bedrooms and bathroom comprise the layout of the second floor, reached by way of a closed stair at one corner of the living room. There is abundant closet space.

A tier of built-in trays, behind a regular interior door, replaces a chiffonier in one room. In the hall is a linen case of similar make-up.

The house should cost about $6850 to build, figuring construction at 25 1-2 cents a cubic foot.

Cigars In Favor With Paris Women As Fags Lose Out

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Lady Nicotine has long since converted the women here to cigars, but now the weaker sex has taken a fancy to cigars and stogies.

Though perfectly proper women have been smoking for decades, some feminine lovers of the weed have been lately astonishing Parisian society by puffing cigars after dinner in fashionable restaurants.

The fad was started recently by the wife of a well known and respectable social leader, and it has been adopted by numerous others until it is nothing unusual now to see a bejeweled society queen call a cigarette vander and select a Corona or a mild Havana.

It only remains for an enterprising tobacco firm to introduce a ladies' custom built briar.

EMPRESS OFFERS PRAYER
TOKYO, Jan. 29.—When the empress, standing at her throne in Kyoto, offered a silent prayer in the chapel of a university there recently, she created a precedent.

No empress of Japan had ever prayed in a Christian chapel prior to this occasion.

Alleged Swindler To Be Taken East

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Raymond Bischoff, alleged swindler, will be returned to Chicago within a few days, according to Illinois officers, who are here with extradition papers approved by Governor Richardson. It is charged that Bischoff participated in a $2,000,000 oil land swindle. He was arrested here recently after jumping bond in Chicago three years ago.

California Building Loan League

CODE OF ETHICS

ADOPTED AT ANNUAL CONVENTION, SAN JOSE, MAY, 1924

REALIZING the responsibility reposed in the California Building-Loan League through the opportunity afforded its individual members in teaching thrift and systematic saving, so as to house the families of this commonwealth that "the American Home may continue the safeguard of American Liberties," the members of the California State Building-Loan League have adopted this Code of Ethics to aid in the better understanding of common problems, to raise to the highest degree possible the integrity of the business dealings among men whatsoever their relationship and to inject into the economics of "Building and Loan" the formula of the "Golden Rule."

The purposes of all Building and Loan Associations as set forth in the articles of incorporation of each are:

1. To encourage industry.
2. To encourage frugality.
3. To encourage saving.
4. To encourage home building.

The objectives are ideal as evidenced by the history of mankind and it is the purpose of this code to promote among the membership of the California State League the desire and will to attain them unselfishly and without preferment.

I. Chartered by the State, answerable to the citizens of the state for its every act, it is the purpose of League members to observe fully and carefully the laws governing Building and Loan Associations of the State of California as set forth in Title XVI of the Civil Code under Sections 633 and 648a, both inclusive, and any amendments thereto that may be hereafter enacted.

II. Realizing that service to humanity, personal integrity, co-operation and loyalty will develop the spirit of effective citizenship and that each association has a peculiarly advantageous position in each community in which it operates, to foster these ideals, the associated members of the League are pledged to promote and encourage all civic enterprises and movements looking to human betterment.

III. The foundation of good business is built of confidence, integrity, fair dealing, efficient service and mutual benefit, and therefore all parties to any transaction must be equitably benefited thereby.

IV. A just reward for service rendered requires sufficient profit to give capital investment, prudent management, loyal employment and the legal reserve required by law, with due consideration to the public, and all members of our respective organizations.

V. The best endeavors of all officials and employees are required to elevate the standards of our vocation; to extend a true knowledge of its beneficent purposes; to demand that all contracts, written and oral, be performed in letter and spirit; to require of our members a careful and exactly true statement in advertising and publicity to the end that all representations and obligations shall be truthfully made and fulfilled.

VI. That thrift be extolled and waste of time, money, effort, material, or natural resources be condemned; that we discourage speculation, inflation of credit over buying and other financial excesses.

VII. That extortion, exploitation, secret rebates, fraudulent contracts and unearned commissions are wholly at variance with the ideals of building and loan service and as such are unqualifiedly condemned.

VIII. That unfair competition, whether by lower rates of interest to borrowers, or larger rates to investors, and all other acts, characterized by bad faith, deception, fraud or oppression, including commercial bribery, is wasteful, despicable and works a public wrong.

IX. Responsibility of the individual cannot be avoided or evaded when representing an association. A friendly and co-operative spirit is desired as beneficial to corporate interests and all controversies and disputes will, when possible, be adjusted by voluntary agreement or impartial arbitration.

X. Acknowledging the obligations owed one to another by reason of similarity of objects it shall be the purpose of the League to strive for brevity and lucidity in all contracts and similarity of contractual forms, so that co-operation may replace competition. It is realized that youth owes a debt to age and that age may gain from the vision and ambition of youth, therefore the application of this section of the code will apply to the relationship existing between the oldest associations holding charters and the latest to incorporate.

XI. As employers, associations shall feel it incumbent to deal justly, humanely and generously with those who serve. The place of business should be modern, well lighted, properly ventilated, and adequately heated. It is desirable that all rooms should be decorated and furnished in a manner pleasing to the eye and designed to promote confidence among all who have transactions therein. Furthermore, the wages paid by the associations to its employees should be sufficient to encourage loyalty, contentment and a feeling of comfort and security. Also we should deem it a duty to investigate the conditions under which employees live and so far as possible lead them into habits of thrift and saving in order to aid them to become home owners and responsible citizens.

XII. To foster friendships which neither demands material benefits nor violates confidences; to promote loyalty to oneself, his employers, fellow employees and the public interest; to sustain, uphold and develop the League in its effort to serve its membership and the State, so that human rights may be universally recognized as deep and broad as the race itself.

O'CONNELL MAY BLOCK PROBE OF SCANDAL

"JUD" HOUSE MAY HELP POLY HURDLERS

Meredith ("Jud") House, one of the finest low hurdles that ever sprang from a cinder path, is living in Santa Ana now and it is wanted probably would consent to give the local high school and junior college timber tappers some valuable pointers. House is manager here for the Blythe-Witter company, stock and bond brokers.

House attended Riverside high school and went from there to Stanford University. His prowess on the track will not be forgotten soon. His mark of 23.35 seconds for the low hurdles is the best ever recorded on the Pacific Coast. It was tied once. In 1919, when House returned to Stanford from the military service, he made 23 points in the Cards' "big meet" with California. He was a great sprinter and broad jumper as well as hurdler.

FORMER OHIO STATE STAR NOW S. A. RESIDENT

Santa Ana has another former crack college athlete as a resident in Steve Blakesley, halfback on the Ohio State varsity that played the California "wonder team" at Pasadena on New Year's Day, 1920. Blakesley is conducting physical education classes here. He has been in California long enough to make a careful study of the caliber of football that is played in this state and having played two years at Ohio State certainly knows the type of game that is played in the Middle West.

"I'll have to admit that the game as played in the West is faster and probably sounder than in other sections of the country," Blakesley says. "I think more stress is laid on defense in the East and for that reason the teams there play better defensive football but the California forward passing game is far in advance of that anywhere else."

Winsor To 'Sell' Fuente Contract

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Fred Winsor, who brought Tony Fuente from the ranks of the unknown to the spotlight of national attention, expects to turn over his managerial contract which he holds with the Mexican heavyweight to Joe Levy, former manager of Joe Rivers. Winsor says he will make $7500 on the deal.

EPISODE NO. 21

THE GREAT ROBBERY

BY MIDNIGHT DON FELIPE, ACCOMPANIED BY ONE OF EL DIABLO'S FOLLOWERS, ARRIVES AT HIS OWN HOME WHICH HE HAS ARRANGED TO ROB IN ORDER TO GAIN THE BANDIT'S CONFIDENCE.

YOU STAY HERE, RUBIO, AND GUARD THE ENTRANCE WHILE I GO TO THE HOUSE!

DON FELIPE FINDS THE DOOR OPEN AND THE BAG OF GOLD AND SILVER PLACED AS HE HAD DIRECTED IN HIS MESSAGE.

NOW FOR MY PLAN!

A HALF HOUR LATER IN A NEAR-BY CANTINA

HA, NOW MY FRIEND, ARE YOU NOT GLAD THAT YOU LEFT ME THOSE FIVE PESOS!!

CA-RAMBA!

DON FELIPE'S SCHEME WORKS PERFECTLY AND THE BANDIT IS SO IMPRESSED THAT HE TELLS ALL ABOUT EL DIABLO AND HIS BAND OF PLUNDERERS.

AH, AMIGO, EL DIABLO WOULD BE HAPPY TO HAVE A DARING MAN LIKE YOU JOIN HIS BAND—COME, LET US GO TO HIM!!

MEANWHILE DON CARLOS, UNABLE TO SLEEP BECAUSE OF HIS FRANTIC FEARS FOR HIS DAUGHTER'S SAFETY, SPENDS THE NIGHT IN AN AGONY OF DESPAIR.

AH, MY POOR LITTLE DOLORES! WOULD THAT YOU WERE IN YOUR GRAVE RATHER THAN IN THE CLUTCHES OF EL DIABLO!

WHILE ACROSS THE GREAT PAMPAS RIDES DON FELIPE WITH HIS FRIEND TO THE LAIR OF THE BANDIT CHIEF.

ANYONE WHO MISSES TOMORROW'S FURIOUS AND SENSATIONAL EPISODE HAS NO SOUL FOR ADVENTURE AND ROMANCE AND WE DON'T MEAN MAYBE, PERHAPS OR POSSIBLY!

Trojans Count On H. B. Athlete For Points This Year

CHARLIE BICKMORE

U. S. C. track enthusiasts are counting heavily on Charlie Bickmore, former Huntington Beach high school star, to bring them points in the pole vault this year. Bickmore also is an excellent high hurdler but the Trojans are so strong in this event anyway that "Bick" probably will be asked to devote all his time to the pit event.

NURMI CRACKS 2 MORE WORLD INDOOR MARKS

Terrific Pace Forces Ray to Quit After Two Laps; Plant Beats Frigerio

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Two more world's records, giving him a high run of 15 since he arrived in this country, were marked up last night in Madison Square garden by Paavo Nurmi, the unstoppable Finn.

Setting a killing pace that caused Joie Ray, America's best, to quit after two laps, Nurmi won the one-mile and a half feature of the Millrose games in the record time of 6:39.35 and he flashed past the mile and one-eighth mark in a new record time of 5:30.15.

While Europe's greatest runner was living up to his reputation, the greatest walker from the other side failed when Tito Frigerio, Olympic champion at Antwerp and Paris, was badly beaten by Willie Plant, the American champion.

Plant got away in the lead in a 5,000 meter race and walked the colorful Italian almost through the track, winning the event by almost three-quarters of a lap in 22:06.35. It was a record as the event never had been contested on an indoor track.

The veteran, George Goulding, Canadian champion, who owns most of the existing records, was ordered out of the race by his physician, who said a bad heart might result in a fatality. Goulding had trained a year for the race.

SPORTLAFFS

Owner of Browns Admits Club Is Sick, But Doesn't Need An Undertaker

BY BILLY EVANS

PHIL BALL

THE STORY FINALLY BROKE IN St. Louis that Donnelly had made overtures to Ball for the Browns. It was impossible, however, to agree on the price. The deal fell through. Later, when interviewed on the subject, Ball said to the newspaper men: "The deal is off. I realize the Browns are a mighty sick ball club but after much consideration I decided they were not quite ready for an undertaker."

When apprised of Mr. Ball's size-up of the Browns (it might be well to state this was three or four years back when the Browns were fighting to keep out of the cellar), Mr. Donnelly smiled and replied: "My friends always refer to the Browns as a dead one, so I figured I would be right at home directing such a proposition."

Mr. Donnelly, however, still has the desire to buy a big league ball club if the price is right, but insists that he be handed a "live one."

BOWLES MAPLE HITTERS TAKE ROAD TONIGHT

Nearing the close of the first swing around the 16-team circuit, the Bowles Motor Company team, Santa Ana representative in the Southern California Bowling league travels to Los Angeles tonight for a three-game series with the Poison Cakes. The match will be rolled on the Treosti alleys, 153 1/2 North Main street.

The local wood-carvers are in sixth place and not far behind the Arcade Alleys of Long Beach, league leaders. Anaheim is in second place with the Standard Plumbing company, a team that split 2 and 2 with Santa Ana here last week, still keeping hold of third place.

Averages received here today show Penny Jones still leading the Bowles five with an individual mark of 159 pins a game. Max Ames is next with 136 followed by Martin with 135, Harrison and Gordon with 133 and Madaris with 130. Jimmy Heffron is topping the Anaheim squad with an average of 196. Bill Karam has 195. Then come McGaugh with 185, Theodore with 183, Erker with 183 and Hanson with 182.

League standings follow:

JIM O'CONNELL TO TELL SCANDAL PART

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell, former New York Giant outfielder and one of the principals in the Dolan-O'Connell baseball scandal, will leave for New York as soon as possible to tell his story about the attempted bribe of Helme Sands, Philadelphia shortstop last September.

In a telegram from Sausalito, Cal., O'Connell expressed his willingness to appear and be examined by Assistant District Attorney Brothers, in charge of the investigation of the case.

SHORT SPORTS

Judging from the interest displayed in the annual National Motor Boat show now on in New York, the water sport is booked for one of the greatest seasons in its history during the coming summer.

Oxford and Cambridge university oarsmen already have started their long practice season in preparation for the annual university boat race, which will be held over the historic Thames course in March.

The coming annual bench show of the Westminster Kennel club in Madison Square Garden will be the last to be held in the historic structure which has been the home of the club's exhibitions for so many years.

More than usual interest attaches to the annual midwinter meeting of the Grand Circuit stewards in Cleveland because of the probability of some important changes in the membership of that famous racing organization.

WALTER JOHNSON IN CONFAB WITH MAIER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Some definite announcement was expected today from Walter Johnson regarding his attempted purchase of the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league.

The American league veteran conferred with Ed Maier, Tiger owner, yesterday, and although refusing to tell what transpired, made the statement that "Thursday will see the thing decided one way or the other."

Associated with Johnson in his negotiations are a group of men whose names were not given out. There is some doubt now whether George Weiss, owner of the New Haven club of the Eastern league, is still with Johnson in his attempts to purchase the Vernon franchise. Christy Walsh, newspaper syndicate man, is one of those behind the dicker, it is said.

FORMER GIANT PUTS STRINGS ON TESTIMONY

Asks Immunity to Go East and Tell His Version of Attempted Bribery Case

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Investigation of the Dolan-O'Connell baseball scandal by the district attorney's office may be blocked permanently by the demand of Jimmy O'Connell for immunity if he presents himself for examination.

Assistant District Attorney Brothers, who is in charge of the investigation, virtually admitted that the testimony of the several players already examined has been only a repetition of that given to Commissioner Landis and that little may be accomplished if Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan are not examined again.

Brothers received a telegram from O'Connell yesterday, saying that he was leaving California for New York as soon as possible. He heard later that O'Connell had retained counsel and would demand immunity before he would submit to examination.

"It will be impossible for me to grant immunity to any one at this time," Brothers said.

No word has been heard from Dolan since he was asked to appear, although his counsel, Bill Fallon, said when the investigation by the district attorney was suggested his client would be willing to appear. It is possible, however, that Dolan may wait until Fallon, who is very busy now on several big cases, is able to handle his case.

Commissioner Landis promised that any one connected with baseball would appear at the district attorney's call but Dolan and O'Connell are not connected with baseball.

The two principals in the scandal who were banished by Landis are not within the jurisdiction of the New York courts and attempts at extradition would be impracticable.

The entire Pacific coast is in sympathy with O'Connell and it is not likely that the governor of California would turn over for a criminal trial a popular youngster who is looked on rather generally as "the goat."

Another angle to the case is that O'Connell might be able to repudiate his confession. In the transcript of the testimony made public by Landis, O'Connell's full confession was not included, a note explaining that a stenographer was not present when he told the commissioner his story.

O'CONNELL AWAITS ANSWER TO "STRINGS" AGREEMENT SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell today is awaiting the answer of New York's district attorney to the strings he has placed on his agreement to go to New York and tell his story in connection with the baseball investigation.

O'Connell prepared a fight yesterday when he retained Joseph McInerney of San Francisco as his attorney.

McInerney's first action was to wire the New York authorities a demand that they grant immunity to O'Connell as a condition for O'Connell going to New York and telling his story.

"O'Connell would like to tell all he knows but he is by no means satisfied with the sincerity of the investigation," McInerney said. "He would like to face John J. McCraw, 'Cozy' Dolan, George Kelly and Frank Frisch in a room and put some questions to them."

"He would repeat what they said to him or what he claims they said to him and what he answered and see how they would take the situation."

LITERATURE OF CHAMBER BODY WINS RESULTS

A. L. Giger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, today announced that he is receiving more answers than usual from literature mailed by the chamber to residents of the east. He attributes this to a growing interest in Santa Ana, an interest created by the many favorable reports on this city made by persons who have been temporary residents or who have been visitors to the city for a day or two.

He says the following, from J. S. Morrison, Batavia, N. Y., is typical of letters he is receiving almost daily:

"I beg to thank you for the pamphlets received today. They are very interesting. I hope to have the pleasure of visiting, and, perhaps, making my home in your fair city in the near future."

OUR—NEIGHBORS

SAN BERNARDINO—Transfer of a 15-acre site near San Antonio canyon to the city of Upland for park purposes was approved in a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors. The site is known as the San Antonio park and was set aside by the county years ago as a park site. It will be developed by the Woman's club and other civic organizations of Upland. A quit claim deed transferring the property to the city of Upland was issued.

PASADENA—A home for the aged will be erected in Pasadena by the Order of the Eastern Star. The board of city directors authorized its establishment at 1507 North Fair Oaks avenue. The application was made by J. H. Coolman of Covina. The home will accommodate about fifteen persons.

RIVERSIDE—Riverside Chamber of Commerce will be represented at all-day celebration and barbecue to be held at Perris Saturday, on occasion of nearing completion of the big program of paving which is changing Perris streets from dust to a boulevard. The celebration is being held under auspices of the Perris valley Chamber of Commerce.

LONG BEACH—Charges that the western section of Los Angeles county is getting all the financial aid and that the eastern and southeastern sections are being ignored by the board of supervisors and other county officials were made here at a meeting of representatives of the chambers of commerce and other civic organizations of the towns of Lynwood, Alhambra, Pasadena, Whittier, Southgate, Long Beach and other communities.

CALEXICO—More than 1500 bales of cotton were ginned by the gins at Mexicali and Calexico last week. All but 140 of the 1500 bales reported were ginned in Mexicali, making a total of 64,200 bales brought to the Mexicali gins this season from the Lower California fields. The report shows a total of 3345 bales of cotton ginned in Calexico that was produced in the Calexico district of Imperial county.

POMONA—Extensive improvements are contemplated at the Los Angeles county fair grounds near Pomona in preparation for the coming fair season. Two more barns will be built to house additional exhibits of cattle and draft horses. The barns will be of the same specifications as the fair grounds. They are 30 by 200 feet in dimensions. Each barn will house 100 cattle.

GLENDAL—Following a conference of the board of high school trustees and the Glendale board of education, it was decided to postpone the proposed school-bond election scheduled for February 10 until February 17, in order to comply fully with the legal requirements. The amount of the proposed bond issue is $2,400,000, and a house-to-house canvass of the city is planned by those who are working for the passage of the bond issue to support the project.

Mission Society At Tustin Meets

TUSTIN, Jan. 29.—Members of the missionary society of the Advent Christian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Squires for their regular sewing circle and social hour. Several quilts were completed by the women, and part of the afternoon was devoted to a business meeting. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Mrs. Alice Fewell, Mrs. William E. Snider, Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mrs. Earl C. Shoemaker, Miss Olive Bowman, Mrs. J. Lange, Mrs. E. Elton, Mrs. W. L. Shatto, Mrs. Fannie Dresser, Mrs. H. L. Taylor, Mrs. C. F. Crawford and the hostess, Mrs. C. Squires.

DAYTON, Jan. 29.—Old Diogenes would have given up his hunt before he had received the inch long, if he had received the letter sent to Mr. Hussey, news stand manager here. It was not signed, but read: "I recently purchased a magazine and two packs of mints at your stand. When I got on the train I found I had picked up two copies of the magazine. Enclosed are stamps to pay for the extra copy."

Norfolk, Virginia. — "If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up ever getting well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicine I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is." — Mrs. J. A. Jones, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

LA HABRA CITY OFFICERS TAKE OFFICE OATHS

LA HABRA, Jan. 29.—Members of the board of trustees of the recently incorporated city of La Habra met Tuesday night and took their oaths of office before N. M. Launer, notary public. Dr. E. S. Boise, mayor, presided as chairman. Lewis Muchow is city treasurer, A. C. Goodell is clerk and Judge J. E. Hart is recorder.

A petition that Leo Martin, former Fullerton traffic officer, be appointed city marshal of La Habra, was presented by L. E. Smith and approved by the entire board. H. G. Mereness of Montebello was named as deputy marshal. They will be furnished motorcycles and will serve as traffic officers as well. Albert Launer of Fullerton was appointed city attorney.

The board voted to hold its weekly meetings on Tuesday nights in the Washington school. Various ordinances were discussed and will be drawn up later to be voted on by the people of the community. Many civic improvements are being planned which will mean the rapid development of La Habra and will probably attract many to that district, it is declared.

Men In Saddle at P-T. A. Meeting

COSTA MESA, Jan. 29.—Monday night was father's night of the local P. T. A., and father conducted the meeting as he thought it should be conducted.

The husbands of the P-T. A. officers were the fathers: Mr. Charles Yount was president; Mr. White, vice-president; F. J. Jones, recording secretary; D. Hardison, chairman mutual benefit; Grow S. Brown, child welfare, and R. Vile, sergeant-at-arms.

The president brought the meeting to order in a violent manner, using a huge gavel. R. Vile conducted the ladies' orchestra to the platform. The orchestra consisted of nine pieces, including slide trombone, violin, saxophone, cornets, traps and drum. The instruments comprised for the most part kitchen utensils, to which were attached small horns which, aided by the human voice, gave forth "music." The orchestra rendered eight selections. Mrs. Yount was the director, assisted by Misses Selbert, Jones, Flynn, Byrne, Merrill, F. W. Vile, R. Vile and Miss Stearns.

After the regular routine of business, which was dispensed with quickly by tabling or postponement to the next regular meeting, Mr. White conducted the question box. This contained humorous questions in regard to members of the school board and teachers. A unique system of fines enriched the P-T. A. fund.

NEWPORT BEACH CHAMBER INDORSES HARBOR BOARD AND MUNICIPAL TRUSTEES

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 29.—Following the acrimonious mass meeting held here Tuesday night of last week, the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce, at its regular meeting Monday, adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, there has been considerable discussion of an unsatisfactory nature tending to throw discredit not only on Orange county's harbor and its supporters; and, whereas, this discussion has also cast a reflection on the work and integrity of the board of trustees of the city of Newport Beach and the city officials; and, whereas, such discussion and criticism serves to delay and bring into disrepute the work of developing Newport harbor, and in addition tends to cast suspicion on the men who have been striving so faithfully toward the consummation of a harbor; therefore,

"Be it resolved, that the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce

go on record as indorsing the untiring efforts of Newport harbor's supporters and also indorse and approve the efforts of the city trustees of Newport Beach and its officials; and,

"Be it further resolved, that the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce unqualifiedly get behind the trustees and all harbor workers and give them the fullest and most enthusiastic support in the carrying on of the conduct of the harbor work to early fruition, and that we indorse and support the city administration; and,

"Be it further resolved that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting; that a copy of same be forwarded to the board of trustees of the city of Newport Beach and also to the various papers in Orange county and Southern California for publication.

"NEWPORT BEACH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

"Paul B. Ellsworth, President.

"S. A. Meyer, Secretary."

Radio Program to Advertise Beach

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 29.—A radio program advertising Seal Beach will be presented from Station KFON Friday evening. A. W. Armstrong of the chamber of commerce has engaged the entertainers, who include the William Heber family, musicians, of Seal Beach, and David Durand, as Little Boy Blue.

Wintersburg-Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG AND SMOELTZER, Jan. 29.—On next Sunday, a Sunday school institute is to be held at the Methodist church. The evening will open with a fellowship luncheon at the social hall, those attending to bring sandwiches. Hot coffee will be served by the committee. The luncheon will be at 5:30. Four county Sunday school workers will take charge of the institute work, each division of the work being carried on separately. Miss Pearl Gentry will be in charge of the children's department; Mrs. J. O. Doolittle of the young folks; George W. Weedon of the adults, and J. O. Doolittle of the administration.

The general address will be given at the opening of the program at 6:15 by Mr. Doolittle. The meeting will be the first of six unit meetings which will be held successively in the county by the Sunday school workers.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah M. Preston, whose death occurred Friday of last week at her home at Wintersburg, was largely attended by local people. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the Baptist church at Huntington Beach, with interment in the Huntington Beach cemetery. All of Mrs. Preston's children were present, one son having come from New York and a son and a daughter from Oregon.

The community social held in the social hall at Wintersburg was largely attended. At 6 o'clock, a pot luck supper was served. The social hours following were of an informal nature. Old-time songs were sung and an impromptu program was given, which included short speeches and a poem by Mrs. C. E. Pratt, expressing regret over the departure of the honor guest of the evening, Mrs. George Murock, and family.

J. J. Graham was a business visitor at Puente recently.

The Comrades club of older Y.M.C.A. boys of Wintersburg played basketball in Santa Ana Saturday evening.

Mrs. W. W. Blaylock and twin sons, William and Wallace, returned Sunday from Redondo, where they visited Mrs. B. Blaylock's daughter, Mrs. Frances Lacy.

Lester Fox of Placentia was a Sunday visitor at the homes of his brothers, Roy and Ray Fox, of the Blaylock tract.

Reports from the Orange county hospital, where Mrs. Virgil Preston is convalescing from a surgical operation, are most encouraging.

Almost all local ranchers are bringing their lands for various crops and pumps may be heard going day and night.

A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan of Wintersburg told of the safe arrival in Arizona of Louis Summers, Herbert Lowery and Buford Lowery, who left here last week. The three motored to Arizona. Summers will remain there, while the others will drive to their home in Oklahoma.

Tests for the end of the semester are being given pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the Oceanview grammar school this week.

Meeting of the men's class of the Wintersburg Methodist Sunday school is to be held Thursday evening at the social hall. Dinner is to be served.

The speaker of the evening will be Mr. McDermott of Santa Ana. Mr. Thibaud is teacher of the men's Bible class, which was recently reorganized.

The Nelson garage, which has just been built at the corner one-half mile east of Wintersburg, was opened Monday. Roy Morgan and Al Klein, the latter of Long Beach, are in charge.

Linn De Barr and Miss Irma De Barr, cousins of Mrs. G. M. Roberson, and Miss Nellie Obrein of Santa Ana were Sunday evening callers at the Roberson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rouff and family, accompanied by a grandchild, visited Normand Rouff at the naval school at San Diego.

FACTORY WILL UTILIZE WORN RUBBER TIRES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.

The Rubber Products company of America, which recently purchased the oilcloth and linoleum factory here owned by T. B. Talbert, and other residents of Orange county, will start operations as soon as a permit is received from the California corporation commissioner, according to announcement made today by W. H. Yetman and J. K. Nostrom, heads of the company.

The company recently purchased the building of the linoleum company, at a reported consideration of nearly $100,000, and expect to invest heavily in equipment as soon as the corporation permit is received, it is declared.

The company plans to make high-grade rubber material from decomposed automobile tires. According to Yetman, every part of the worn-out automobile tire is to be

Summer Colony By Negroes On Beach Rumored

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.

Reports were being circulated here today to the effect that a group of negroes in Los Angeles has purchased land between this city and Newport Beach and will establish a summer colony.

Verification of the sale of land to any person could not be made. Many well-dressed colored men and women have been visiting the beach and casting a prospective eye over certain sections of land in the location mentioned, it is claimed.

DISCOVERY OF COAT ON BEACH Baffles Cops

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.

Why should a man who wanted to commit suicide take off his coat, vest and necktie?

That is the question local police were asking her today, following the discovery of these articles of apparel on the beach at the foot of Thirty-eighth street yesterday morning.

Footprints, led from the coat in to the surf and did not return. All marks of identification had been removed from the clothing. Marks were discernible where the name of the clothier had been ripped from the lining of the coat. A black button and a piece of match were the only articles found in the pockets.

Police are keeping a sharp watch on the beach in hope that

Rattlesnakes In Schoolroom, But Only In Movies

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 29.—Civet

cats, roadrunners, rattlesnakes, tarantulas and Gila Monsters were trotted out on the screen before the astonished eyes of Seal Beach children at a surprise movie party at the school Tuesday. This was one of a series of educational films planned for by the term, depicting natural history. Owing to local facilities for the study of marine life, school authorities are discussing possibility of outdoor classes to be held occasionally on the beach when low tide uncovers countless specimens.

The body will appear and clear up the mystery.

The coat and vest are of good material, light blue-grey in color, and were small. They would probably fit a man weighing 140 pounds, and approximately five feet, seven inches tall, police believe. The tie was dark blue.

H. B. TEACHERS HEAR TALK BY COLLEGE HEAD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.

Teachers in public schools are engaged in work which requires the highest type of salesmanship, according to Dr. Walter Dexter, president of Whittier college, who spoke before teachers of the grammar school here Tuesday evening. His subject was "The Business of Education." The prime motive of the teachers of today is to gain the interest of the student in the subject, the college president said. Entertainment features were provided at the meeting, which was attended by about 30 teachers.

EVENING SALUTATION

No man has come to true greatness who has not felt in some degree that his life belongs to his race, and that what God gives him, He gives him for mankind.—Phillips Brooks.

CALIFORNIA ON ITS WAY

The gold nugget that changed California from a sleepy, ambitious area into a state teeming with life and enterprise has been discovered in the possession of a New York man. At least, the New York man declares the nugget is the original Marshall nugget, and his word has been taken as truth. Efforts are now under way for the purchase of the nugget that it may be brought back to California and preserved. Incidentally the claims as to the authenticity of the claims made by the owner of the nugget will be tested.

The discovery of the present location of this nugget is occasion for numerous reviews of the history of the Days of '49. Writers are pointing out what the discovery of gold meant to California. It brought not only the development of gold mining and resultant wealth, important as that was, but it brought to California tens of thousands of men, a large portion of whom remained in this state after the gold excitement had died down and had a part in developing its latent resources.

Following the gold rush came a period in which stock raising on the open ranges of great cattle ranches was our greatest industry. Then came the development of agriculture, by which California attained a position of national leadership. Today we seem to be in a transition period following which we may find ourselves recognized as a great manufacturing state.

The discovery of gold hastened the making of California. Had it not been for the Marshall nugget, California might have lagged along for a number of years, at least until some other nugget was unearthed. Suppose there had been no gold mines in California. What a change that would have made in our history! The development that came in 1855 might not have come and probably would not have come until after the Civil War.

The gold nugget set California upon its way. Interesting as the story of California is, valuable as her experiences were to those who came after the pioneers, today we look forward to a greater and more wonderful California than we have ever known.

Fortunate were those who knew California in its infancy; fortunate those who have had a part in its life through any portion of these seventy-five years; fortunate indeed, those who shall have the opportunities to be given by California to those who shall be within its borders in the years to come.

An astronomer is annoyed by frivolous jests about the sun's corona, evidently on the ground that it's nothing to make light of.

FIGHTING THE OPIUM RING

Some Americans have regretted the participation of our government in the international opium conference at Geneva, because of the conflicts it has developed, especially the mix-up with Great Britain. It is probably a good thing, for all that.

The American delegates have stood and spoken plainly for a program calculated to remove the opium curse from the world within the shortest possible time. Their idealistic efforts, though they may fail for the present, are destined to bear fruit and win eventually, because they are right. Right action need never be regretted.

It remained for a Chinaman, Mr. Sze, to speak perhaps the finest words of the conference. Urging the application of justice to the East as well as to the West, he declared:

"The legal subtleties and evasions advanced here will bring the contempt of future generations on many delegations who have not yet seen the light of a newer day when the rights of humanity and not national interests are at stake.

"We are deeply grateful to America for her fight in this eleventh hour to lift us and the League out of the morass. Without the presence of the United States, this conference would have been classified in the limbo of forgotten things."

Then the Japanese delegation, which had come to the conference with a definite program of its own, in which it felt a natural pride, generously offered to abandon that program in favor of the American proposals.

For these proofs of oriental decency and idealism, even though they make European selfishness all the darker by contrast, the fight against the wholesale doping of mankind has been worth while. Against such efforts, the European governments bound to the profiteering opium industry will be obliged to yield sooner or later.

A hundred people are willing to denounce war for one that is willing to do something constructive toward preventing war.

IT PAYS BOTH WAYS

A million dollars was spent last year in advertising coffee.

A lot of money, but it reaped a harvest, for the average per capita consumption of coffee was increased 80 cups a year at an advertising cost of less than one cent per capita.

A famous soup canner's advertising expense runs to enormous figures. But before he started to advertise his sales cost was 20 per cent. Today it is 5 per cent. A cent's worth of advertising sells him six cans of soup.

Advertising pays both buyer and seller—the buyer in smaller costs, the seller in increased production.

News dispatches state the English pound sterling is back to par. This should be good news for most of the world, including America. To Uncle Sam it looks like a stabilization of European conditions and a restoration of his chief market.

BOY LEGISLATORS

During the holidays a Boys' Parliament met in the legislative chamber of the Ontario parliament buildings in Canada. These youngsters had been elected by their various constituencies, and they got together in a mock parliament to discuss public questions.

It is reported that they did it very well, too, making a few improvements over the methods of their elders who really run the affairs of the Province. These youthful legislators removed their hats and refrained from throwing letters and paper about the room.

They treated all the questions discussed with fine seriousness.

The Toronto Globe believes that the Boys' Parliament will help to interest the rising generation in politics. In Canada, as in this country, commercial pursuits and financial success are goals more sought after than political success. Yet politics is a worthy and necessary part of our life.

"Ever since King John gave up some of his rights at Runnymede the game of politics has been increasingly important," remarks the Globe.

"The boys of today can do their country no better service than to learn early of the nation's problems and treat them seriously as things to be solved."

All of which is just as true for American boys and girls as it is for the younger generation north of the border. An effort should be made to present these things to them in interesting and simple form.

That world flight of American aviators cost Uncle Sam $177,000, and was cheap at the price, when you consider that Sir Thomas Lipton usually spends more than that to be beaten in a yacht race.

A Few Budget Remarks

Redlands Facts.
The budget business of the state, at a distance of some 500 miles, and in the absence of the data needed to carry on a thorough study of the subject, is perhaps not altogether clear. The writer of this column has endeavored to get out a few thoughts from the budget, and its message, and the comments made upon it, so as to give the readers of The Facts perhaps an illuminating view of the budget, one fair in every way.

One point seems to stand out above all others, when one remembers the agitation two years ago over the budget, as to whether it gave sufficient money to some of the humanitarian enterprises of the state. This point is that the Governor is giving more money this year. Two years ago the "antis" in the Legislature strove valiantly and with considerable noise to get a total increase of $1,170,049.68 above the budget appropriations. They failed, because the Governor had the last word on the subject. This year the Governor has given these same institutions $3,500,000 more than he gave them two years ago, and his increase is about three times as much as his opponents asked then.

Two years ago the men who asked for more money for the deaf and blind and other wards of the state were characterized as "reactionary spend-thrifts" by the governor. Indeed, we seem to remember words like those in his message of a few days ago.

The other great difference in the budget of this year and that preceding it seems to lie in the fact that the Governor does not include the self-supporting boards or agencies in his budget, as he did then. His method then was to include these boards, figure them a minimum for support, then take their funds raised for their specific purposes and apply such funds to the reduction of the general budget. That was the way he figured down the budget.

Things We Like to Hear

San Francisco Chronicle.
Mortimer L. Schiff, head of a New York banking firm, has seen all the rest of the world that is worth while and now he is putting in his time seeing America. As might have been expected, he says a lot of nice things about this Western country which we all like to hear. All along we have contended that this golden section on the shores of the Pacific cut considerable figure in the nation. It was not necessary to argue with Schiff on the subject. He knows it as well as we do, if not a little better. This is the land where prosperity is made, according to the banker.

"Why, we sit back there in New York while you people out here furnish the prosperity," is how he puts it.

That is the way he felt about it when he left the Atlantic, but gracefully admits he did not give us half credit enough for our progress and development until he came here and saw it for himself. He attributes the fine condition of the country to American common sense, in which the people have unbounded faith.

Make Sure of the Fund

Fresno Republican.
Some one has gone off half cocked on the question of the state teachers' pension fund. The governor evidently suspects his own sources of information, for he carefully protests that he does not know what he is talking about. So must, unfortunately, many of the rest of us.

But it happens that those who do know what they are talking about, school administrators of knowledge and standing like John William Cooper of Fresno, declare that the fund is in good shape. That at least should quiet apprehension about the immediate stability of the fund.

But it ought, further, to create a situation that would enable the governor to know what he is talking about. If there is any uncertainty about the fund, it should be cleared up. The people of California have taken on a trust for the men and women who stay for long terms of years in the school service. There must be no question about the fulfillment of that trust. And we should prepare to perform that trust, in an orderly way, by building up a reserve.

The Legislature should make sure about this.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

In the early days of healing tuberculosis, it was customary to rest the patient, keep him outdoors, and feed him well. He returned home "fat," but in a short time began to lose weight, and strength. This brought about the "exercise" treatment, in sanatoriums, and as soon as a patient was free of tuberculosis, and gaining weight, he was instructed to walk five to ten minutes daily. This amount was increased as the weeks went by, and then he was given light employment about the institution. Before he left for home, he was able to "work" five to six hours daily, without undue fatigue.

In the treatment of "nervous" cases in former days, the "rest" treatment was the big factor. In cases where the patient was supposed to help maintain himself by light employment, the percentage of recovery was greater, than with those cases where they rested all the time. This was really the starting point of what is called "occupational therapy," which was used so successfully with our returned soldiers, suffering with nervous disorders.

However, there is just one point that should be watched here, just as it was found necessary to watch it in the case of a patient recovering from tuberculosis. That is when he returns to home, his business, and his associates. If he plunges right into the regular affairs of life, he may bring on another attack of "nerves," and all his treatment which may have been weeks and months of care, is practically lost, because he will then have to go through it all once more. And just as the tuberculosis patient learns to live at home, as he lived in the sanatorium, with good, regular meals, plenty of rest, and light exercise, so must the nervous patient go back into business or professional life slowly, and gradually increase the amount of work he attempts to do.

Business Methods In City Affairs

Kansas City Star

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the manager plan of city government is simplicity. That has been illustrated in discussions of the plan in Kansas City by Mr. Louis Brownlow, manager at Knoxville, Tenn. It is shown that the new system simply is the application of business principles to city affairs. A competent individual, named by a representative body of citizens who compose the council, is placed in charge of the city's business and allowed to run it, strictly along business lines. If this individual fails to perform his duties he is replaced, just as the executive and administrative head of a business corporation is replaced when he displays incompetency or lack of business ability.

The most admirable thing about this arrangement, as Mr. Brownlow explains, is that it allows the people of a city to carry over into their public affairs the same degree of interest and competent management that is applied to private affairs. The plan affords a rallying point for the enterprise of the people. The traditional form of American city government has not permitted this. It has made difficult popular control of local government. It has represented dividend authority and responsibility, has permitted political manipulation of public office and the opportunity for waste and incompetency.

That kind of system has proved tremendously expensive to the public, and at the same time fostered public indifference in matters pertaining to government. The new plan has demonstrated its worth not only at Knoxville, but at numerous other cities. It has meant a saving to taxpayers through economic administration and through more efficient service on the part of city officials and employees. It has enabled the people to keep a close check on their government, to know at all times the state of the city's finances and to hold definitely responsible for their actions all those in charge of the city's affairs.

Worth While Verse

TRAVELLING THE ROAD

I must travel the miles till the journey is done,
Whatsoever the turn of the way.
I shall bring up at least at the set of the sun,
And shall rest at the close of the day.
Let me deal as I journey with foe and friends
In a way that no man can assail,
And find nothing but peace at the roadway's last bend,
When I come to the end of the trail.

We are brother who travel a great, common road,
And the journey is easy for none.
We must succor the weary and lift on the road
Of the pilgrim whose courage is done.
Let me deal with them each on my way to the West
With mercy that never shall fail,
And lie down to my dreams with a conscience at rest
When I come to the end of the trail.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Hews came to go to the movies with me, and was up in her room still putting on her hat and things, saying, My goodness, I'm not quite ready. Benny, run down and talk to her a while and entertain her, and now don't go down and sit there like a marble dummy, talk to her.

Which I went down to do, and Mrs. Hews was down in the parlor waiting for me and reading a letter on the sofa, me sitting alongside of her saying, Ma, will be down soon, Mrs. Hews, its too bad you have to wait.

That's all right, I'll just about have time to read this letter, Mrs. Hews said.

Which she kept on doing to herself, me wondering what to talk to her about, and saying, I pretty near almost saw a boy run over this morning, Mrs. Hews, if he hadn't of jumped back just in time he would probably be in the hospital now instead of ware he is, wherever he is.

That's nice, I mean is that so, how fortunate for him, Mrs. Hews said.

And she kept on reading the letter instead of helping in the conversation, and I said, Wich do you like the best, Mrs. Hews, winter or summer?

What say? Winter, I mean summer, I don't know, really, theres no comparison, such a question. I don't care much for either of them, Mrs. Hews said.

Me thinking, G, I dont know what to talk to her about. And I said, Last week our teacher was sick and we had a substitoot, on account of our teacher being sick, its the first time we had a substitoot for a long while and we had more fun than anything not minding her.

Im glad to hear it, I mean that wasnt very obedient of you. O my goodness I've read 2 pages without understanding 2 words, I cant read while your chattering, your old enuff to understand that, Benny, Mrs. Hews said.

Me thinking, Aw the heck with it, I aint going to talk to her. Wich I didnt, and Mrs. Hews started her letter all over again without seeming to miss the conversation.

SAY, little tot, you're a real inspiration. The smile that you've got simply seems a sensation. You take all the bitter from out of our cup 'cause your cheerfulness seems to just brighten things up.

The world, after all, is a sad enough place, so the world ought to just take a peek at your face. The message it gives us should travel along and prove very plain that the trown stuff is wrong.

How easy you find it to spread forth in smile and giggle and laugh in the finest of style. No wrinkle of crossness appears on your brow. You smile, and we thank you for showing us how I wonder, was lady, if you'll take a tip that is just meant to help as you travel life's trip. Don't ever forget, in the after-while, that it always will pay you to know how to smile.

Your Income Tax

A series of thirty articles, based on changes in tax legislation in the Revenue Act of 1924, has been prepared by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These articles are appearing under the above heading, in the order they are issued.

No. 18

Losses arising from "fires, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty or from theft" are deductible whether or not connected with the taxpayer's trade or business. The term "other casualty" within the meaning of the revenue act of 1924, is arising through the action of a physical force of nature, for example a flood or frost.

If a taxpayer's home or automobile is destroyed by fire, or if his summer bungalow is damaged by a storm he may claim a deduction for the loss sustained. Allowance, of course, must be made for any insurance or other compensation received. In event of a collision between a truck and an automobile used for pleasure or convenience, the owner of the truck may claim a deduction for damages, provided at the time the truck was being used for business purposes. No deduction is allowed the owner of the automobile because the car was not being used for business purposes, neither is it a "casualty" as defined above.

Loss of property by theft or burglary is an allowable deduction, and need not be incurred in trade or business.

As a general rule deductions for losses are allowed for the year in which sustained. A taxpayer may ascertain the amount of a loss sustained during a prior taxable year which he had not deducted from gross income for that year. He may render an amended return for such preceding year including such amount of loss in the deductions from gross income, and may file with the Bureau of Internal Revenue a claim for refund of the excess tax paid by reason of failure to deduct the loss in his original return. A loss from theft or embezzlement occurring in one year and discovered in another is ordinarily deductible for the year in which sustained.

Losses in illegal transactions are not deductible.

No. 19

Bad debts constitute a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers and may be treated in one of two ways, either by deduction from income in respect of the debts ascertained to be worthless in year in which received.

Partial deductions are allowed with respect to specific debts only. Before a taxpayer may charge off and deduct a debt in part he must ascertain and be able to demonstrate, with a reasonable degree of certainty, the amount thereof which is uncollectible. Amounts subsequently recovered on account of a bad debt, or on account of a part of such bad debt, previously charged off and allowed as a deduction for income tax purposes, must be included in gross income for the year in which received.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 16—THE FIERCE GREEN DRAGON

This is the rest of the story about the purple peach tree that was changed into a green dragon.

Just because it had seen a picture in a fairy-tale book and took a silly notion that it wanted adventures!

Well—after everybody and everything had run away from it except the fishes and one frog, the dragon kept on going and going and lashing its green tail and rolling its six jamport eyes.

But one of the eyes rolling sideways saw the frog.

"What ho!" said the dragon. "Why do you stand and stare, dummy? Why don't you run?" "I can't run," said the frog. "I only hop."

"Then why dont you hop?" said the dragon.

"Why should I?" blinked the frog. "I'm very comfortable."

"Aren't you afraid?" asked the dragon in surprise and blowing all his three breathes so hard it seemed like three furnaces.

"Nope," said the frog. "I'm only afraid of owls and pussy cats."

"Snort! Snort!" went the dragon. "But I can cook you with one blow."

"Oh, go on," said the frog. "I'm all wet and I'm cold-blooded as well. All the fire in your noses couldn't hurt me any. Pooh!"

"Well, I declare!" said the dragon. "Such impudence! And from a little blatherskite like you. Say—that book must be wrong. It said everybody and everything ran like sixty when a dragon came along. I'll go back and see."

So back he went lumbering and puffing and dragging his long, heavy tail behind him.
